U.S. Jets Cut Hanoi's Rail Line to China

351st Warplane
Is Lost on Bombing Raids

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Six flights of U.S. Air Force jets cut the northwest rail line between Hanoi and Red China in 30 places Thursday, a U.S. spokesman announced, but the loss of two more planes pushed the toll of the air war against North Viet Nam past the 50 mark.

The Air Force announced that an F104 Starfighter and an A1E Skyraider were shot down by ground fire during the raids. This brought to 351 the number of U.S. planes reported lost over North Viet Nam.

FIREMEN REVIVE MOTHER-TO-BE — Shortly after Bellflower, Calif., firemen used oxygen (above) to revive a cat found trapped in a burning building, the animal delivered three kittens. The cat had been overcome by smoke.

Both pilots were listed as missing.

Viet Cong mines exploded in a village voting office and under a civilian bus today in an upsurge of five terrorist attacks close to Saigon. A Vietnamese spokesman said 12 persons were killed and 10 wounded in the attack on the bus.

The rash of attacks, some clearly aimed at disrupting the Sep. 11 national elections, overshadowed the ground war, which continued in a lull.

In the first military shakeup since the dismissal of a corps commander touched off a revolt in the northern provinces last spring, the South Vietnamese military junta fired its navy commander, Capt. Tran Van Phan. However, the dismissal was not expected to have political repercussions.

The junta told the U.S. Command it replaced Phan with his former chief of staff, Cmdr. Nguyen Van Anh, because Phan had failed to protect the shipping channels to Saigon.

However, informants said the Vietnamese navy had been under close watch by the junta recently because of reports that navy ships were being illegally used to carry nonmilitary cargo.

The air war over North Viet Nam also was slowed by bad weather. Torrential rains limited U.S. pilots 70 missions Thursday.

Navy Flier Carries Own 'Baby Bottle'

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — No Navy flier should be without his baby bottle in combat, experts say.

It's part of pilots' survival gear. Lt. Cmdr. Robert Brown, commander of the North Island Naval Air Station Survival School, said the 8-ounce plastic baby bottle is filled with water.

When a pilot is forced down, he would take a few swigs from the bottle to help calm his nerves.

"The water helps wash away the stimulus of fear and helps the pilot think rationally," Brown said.

Some Men Drafted Waiting in Enlistment Line

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "The only sure way to beat the draft," the recruiting sergeant said, "is to enlist."

Alabama Poised To Defy Integration Laws Again

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. George Wallace, bent on another challenge of U.S. authority, gets a new weapon from the Alabama Legislature today to defy school integration guidelines.

A bill forbidding city and county school boards to make any agreement to comply with the federal guidelines has gone back to the House for concurrence.

The House, where the measure originated, was in recess when the Senate rewrote it in tougher language Wednesday and passed it. Until the House reconvenes today to complete legislative action the bill could not be sent to the governor for his certain signature.

Final passage of the anti-guidelines measure was expected to bring to a close the six-week-old special session called to appropriate additional school funds, with no mention at the outset of the impending new showdown over desegregation.

Still more state funds are appropriated in the new act to reimburse schools for part of the federal money they might lose by refusing to comply with the guidelines.

Wallace, who stood in the doorway of the University of Alabama three years ago in a dramatic but unsuccessful attempt to block the enrollment of two Negro students, chose the federal guidelines for a new confrontation.

The guidelines, which have caused considerable controversy in the South, call for speedier integration of faculties and classrooms with an alternative being a loss of federal funds.

He contended — and the new state act also says — that the integration rules laid down by the Health, Education and Welfare Department violate federal as well as state law and that HEW has no authority to order faculty integration or to assign pupils to correct racial imbalance.

Critics, including Republican Rep. James D. Martin, have warned that the new act will invite a federal court order to integrate all Alabama schools at one time.

Martin is the GOP nominee for governor, running against Wallace's wife, Furlene, the Democratic candidate.

Dayton Negro Area Sealed By Guardsmen

105 Are Arrested,
23 Injured in Racial Rioting

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — About 3,000 National Guard troops patrolled the city's sealed-off Negro section today where a destruction spree by roving bands of Negro youths resulted in 23 injuries and 305 arrests.

Near the noon hour Mayor Dave Hall told newsmen "there is a decided improvement in the general condition. The guard has reduced its controls but will hold an adequate number of troops in readiness."

A National Guard Officer said the number of guardsmen patrolling streets already had been reduced by about 25 percent. Col. J. C. Clem said "as conditions return to normalcy we will begin sending men home."

The disturbances were touched off Thursday when a Negro was shot from a car apparently driven by whites. The man died later in a hospital.

At the peak of the disorders, gangs roamed the city's West Side, looting, stoning buses and breaking store windows.

It was the first outbreak of racial violence in this city of 270,000 which President Johnson plans to include as a stopover Monday on his Labor Day weekend tour of the Midwest.

The White House said it was aware of the situation. Mayor Dave Hall told reporters he could see "no danger whatsoever for the President."

The disorders broke out minutes after Lester Mitchell, 40, was felled Thursday morning by a shotgun blast as he swept the walk in front of his home. He succumbed to head wounds 18 hours later.

Witnesses said the shots were fired by three white men in a

'Green Stamp' Approach to College Hit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The "green - stamp approach" to education was denounced today by one of Ohio's newest college presidents.

Dr. Phillip R. Shriver, president of Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, addressed the 1,483-member graduating class at Ohio State University.

Shriver became Miami's president in 1965—80 years after Robert W. McFarland, who was used as a comparison with the present by Shriver.

The Ohio State graduates were told, "Professor McFarland would be saddened... by the green - stamp approach found on many of our campuses to courses and credits which, when the student has accumulated the necessary number to fill his little green stamp book, enables him to exchange the stamps for a diploma."

Shriver said the accepted thing today is to go to college. "The college degree is within reach of more people today than ever before. And more people realize the value — indeed, the necessity — of a college education to understand today's world and to succeed in it, he said.

Commission, Owners Launch Discussion on Airport Land

Preliminary negotiations to acquire privately owned land for county airport purposes were launched Thursday afternoon in the Pickaway Board of Commissioners office.

The commission's current objective is to acquire about 15 acres from the Croman family. This land would be combined with an adjacent tract owned by the county at the abandoned Pickaway Infirmary farm as a airport site.

Discussing the proposed transaction with the commissioners were Sterley and Mr. and Mrs. Forest Croman. Also participating was Alden D. Bray, chairman of the local Airport Advisory Committee.

Although no conclusive action was taken, several key aspects of the land acquisition were openly discussed on an informal friendly basis.

THE CROMANS introduced a proposal calling for an exchange of their land for a similar sized tract owned by the county along Route 22. The acreage, on the south side of the highway, also is part of the County Home farm.

However, state law indicates the county does not have the authority to trade land. But in order to explore all possibilities, Commission Chairman Lloyd Melvin has requested Prosecutor Robert H. Huffer to research statutes pertaining to land negotiations.

A report from the prosecutor outlining procedures the commission may follow is expected within the next few days. Melvin said he would discuss the matter immediately with Huffer.

According to the commissioners, additional negotiations will hinge on the opinion that is to be reached by the prosecutor.

Boy Friend Linked To Fatal Stabbing

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A 36-year-old mother was stabbed to death in her apartment here early today and police launched an immediate search for a 24-year-old man described as her boy friend.

Dead of more than 20 stab wounds was Mrs. Jane Wittington of Columbus' north side, Deputy Coroner Dr. William Adrian reported.

He said the woman was slain while her children, aged 3 and 5, slept. The door to the apartment had been broken down.

A first-degree murder charge was filed against William Bohan, no known address, and a warrant was issued for his arrest.

Greek Peninsula Hit By Severe Earthquake

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — The Greek government declared a state of emergency in the central and western parts of the Peloponnese Peninsula today following an earthquake in which 20 persons were injured.

Geneva Post Use Stressed

Foreign Thrust
Is Condemned

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — France and Cambodia today called for evacuation of all foreign troops from Vietnamese territory. The call came in a joint declaration ending President Charles de Gaulle's official visit to this Southeast Asian kingdom.

The joint declaration, signed by De Gaulle and Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodian chief of state, in the royal palace, said "France and Cambodia 'solely call attention to the extreme gravity of the situation' in Southeast Asia."

"Despite the differences which have divided and still divide the Vietnamese, it is essentially the foreign intervention which, in transforming a civil war into an international conflict, gave to the hostilities their present dimensions," the communique added.

The two countries appealed for "rigorous observance" of the Geneva accords of 1954 — that is "the respect of Viet Nam's independence and sovereignty and no interference in interior affairs."

"At the same time all acts of war must cease on Vietnamese territory, which implies that any foreign power which has introduced troops there first of all make the engagement to retire them in a set length of time and to cease all intervention," the communique said.

The declaration contained some of the wording of De Gaulle's speech Thursday, but in his speech, De Gaulle spoke only of American military intervention in Viet Nam and said the United States must agree to pull out its troops before negotiation to end the war is possible.

The declaration, signed in a

Both Sterley and Forest Croman explained they are not opposed to an airport location in their vicinity. However, they made it clear they feel they are Apparently determined to follow an orderly pattern in their early negotiations, the commissioners and the Cromans did not quote any land purchase prices during the Thursday session. Both parties agreed the property exchange possibility should be fully studied before prices are discussed.

Airport Effort Appreciated

(An Editorial)

Pickaway County's Commissioners are making a sincere effort to provide this community with an airport.

Members of the board have devoted considerable time and energy on details connected with the project. Their efforts are worthy of praise.

Aware that a community should keep pace with the times, the county governing body considers a Pickaway airport an essential link in the chain of progress.

A word of commendation also is in order for the Pickaway County Airport Advisory Committee, a voluntary panel of three men. Their extensive work shows they, too, are interested in a progressive community.

Still another vital cog in the program are the property owners who have expressed a willingness to negotiate for needed land.

Numerous problems still loom on the horizon before a Pickaway County airport can become a reality. But we feel the project is on the move. We hope it continues.

State Fair Near Its Final Windup

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio State Fair headed into the homestretch, the long Labor Day weekend, with more big crowds a near-certainty and a real country folks' favorite, singer Jimmy Dean, heading the grandstand bill the final three days.

Dean, auto racing, auto thrill shows, the lure of the midway and more grandstand attractions plus craft and farm competitions figure to pack them in.

And so far, through Thursday night, an estimated 1,093,195 had attended the 13th Buckeye exposition, including 91,195 on the eighth day.

Minimum Pay Bill Is OK'd

WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise minimum wage bill that would raise the present $1.25 floor to $1.60 in 1968 and cover eight million additional workers has been agreed upon by Senate-House conferees.

The compromise will be sent to the Senate and House for final action.

The conferees, who completed their task Thursday after four sessions, accepted the most liberal provisions from both bills, giving the broadest possible coverage and making the new wage minimums effective at the earliest time provided by the bills.

The coverage provisions of the bill, when fully effective, would mean that a total of 37.6 million workers will be protected by the Wages and Hours Act.

Brought under the law for the first time would be some farm workers, employees of hotels, motels, restaurants, laundries, colleges and universities, hospitals, grade and high schools, transit systems, and noncivil service workers for the federal government.

An additional 1.5 million workers in retail stores also would be covered. The act now covers 2.6 million such employees.

Some Men Drafted Waiting in Enlistment Line

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — "The only sure way to beat the draft," the recruiting sergeant said, "is to enlist."

But draft-age men in Ohio are finding enlistment lines, except for the Army, long these days. The draft may get a man before he gets to the head of the line. And most enlistment standards are higher than the draft.

Army recruiters are not limited to the number of men they can take each month. The other services are, and they have waiting lists.

Ohio National Guard units, both Army and Air Force, have even longer waiting lists. Army and Air Force Reserve units have virtually stopped taking men without prior military service.

The advice of recruiters and national guard officials: "If you're interested in enlisting, don't wait until the last minute." "Lots of kids come here with draft notices in their pockets, and we can't do a thing to save them," an Air Force recruiter explained. "Too many men just aren't aware of the recruiting situation now."

"Why are the lines so long? 'I'd be lying if I didn't say the main reason was the high draft calls,' an Army recruiter here said. Men who enlist serve three years in the Army, draftees only two. But enlistees get a choice of training fields and jobs, and draftees do not.

Enlistments in the Air Force, Navy and Marines are for four years, but the extra year doesn't scare men concerned with staying out of the Army.

The navy reports "an ideal recruiting climate." One Navy spokesman here said all Ohio recruiters have filled up their quotas for the year and are now signing men up for enlistments next January.

Marine Corps recruiters in the state have men lined up for shipment to boot camps through November, and the Air Force is now taking men for October. The recruiting situations for all services is about the same throughout the country, Ohio recruiters add.

The long waiting lists of Ohio National Guard units are deceiving because they're not really waiting lists. Leapfrog is legal and common in the waiting lines. A man who puts his name on the list tomorrow may be accepted for enlistment immediately, and a man who signed up over a year ago may never hear from the unit.

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., criticized the military reserve programs recently, calling it a scandal that "men who have enough pull to get into the Reserve or National Guard units are not being sent to fight, while the man across the street who is drafted lands in Viet Nam."

Ohio National Guard officials deny that men are accepted for enlistment through "pull."

A spokesman in the Ohio adjutant general's office said, "as vacancies occur, we try to select the man who is best suited for the job."

The adjutant general's office says Army guard unit "waiting lists" are 20-50 names long and the seven Air Guard bases in the state all have lists with several hundred names.

The competition to get into the guard units allows the personnel officers to be very selective. An Air Guard spokesman estimates that 75 per cent of recent enlistees are college graduates or students.

An Army Guard official says the Army percentage of college men is also very high, and he says frankly, "these are the men we try to get."

The main attraction of National Guard membership, of course is the short period of active duty time required—as little as four months.

The college man's chances of beating the draft through enlistment are also increased by his eligibility for ROTC training and officers candidate schools. But he must get his college degree and pass tough entrance examinations for commissions under either programs.

An Army recruiter here observed, "I don't know what they're teaching in the colleges, but we get plenty of college grads who can't pass the officers candidate entrance exam."

ceremony at the foot of the crimson and gold Cambodian throne, added that an international agreement should be reached to assure guaranteed and controlled neutrality for Viet Nam. This should be done, the statement added, by "agreement by all Vietnamese."

Shortly before, North Viet Nam in effect rejected De Gaulle's suggestion that peace talks might begin if the United States agreed to a timetable for pulling out its military forces.

Premier Pham Van Dong of North Viet Nam in a speech in Hanoi late Thursday declared his country will not attend a peace conference until the United States withdraws its troops from South Viet Nam, recognizes the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front, and halts the war.

U.S. officials in Washington called De Gaulle's proposal unrealistic since it did not include a corresponding timetable for ending North Viet Nam's drive against the South.

The U.S. government Thursday swallowed its displeasure at the anti-American tone of De Gaulle's remarks behind "no comments" at the White House and State Department.

President Johnson and his foreign policy advisers had not yet read the text, it was explained. After the text did become available — none was supplied by the French government to U.S. officials — the Johnson administration decided again to shun public comment.

However, a State Department spokesman noted that the U.S. government repeatedly has stated — as he put it — "we do not desire to retain U.S. troops in South Viet Nam after peace is assured." And U.S. officials said Hanoi had rebuffed many U.S. efforts for a reciprocal withdrawal or scaling down in the fighting.

Privately, it was assumed that De Gaulle was making his trip to revive the French image in the Southeast Asia area and to lay grounds for playing a peacemaking role at such time as a settlement might become possible.

However, Washington doubted that with France herself having withdrawn her physical presence from Southeast Asia more than a decade ago, Peking and Hanoi would pay much attention to French words now. And De Gaulle's language did not endear him to the U.S. government, either.

Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said De Gaulle's call for evacuation of foreign troops from Viet Nam presents no "insurmountable obstacles" to peace negotiations.

Mansfield, the Senate Democratic leader, called again in a statement for a meeting between President Johnson and De Gaulle. Neither head of state has indicated any current desire for such a conference.

GI Wives Get OK On Tax Refunds
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service said today tax refunds for wives of servicemen in Viet Nam won't be delayed because the husband failed to sign a joint income tax return.

"It is IRS policy and practice to give special consideration to military personnel and their families," the service said.

It said a contrary view was implied in recent reports of difficulties encountered by the wife of an American prisoner of war in Viet Nam.

On federal income tax returns, IRS said, the wife of an overseas serviceman need only indicate in the space provided for her husband's signature that he is in Viet Nam. The return will then be processed and any refund will be expedited, IRS said.

News of World in Brief

OREGONIA, Ohio (AP) — Parkie A. Scott, organizer of the National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, said today that klansmen will picket the Montgomery County fair grounds during President Johnson's scheduled visit there Monday.

"The president is coming to Dayton so he can criticize officials for not turning the city over to the Negroes," Scott said. "With this present trouble in Dayton going on, he will then be a big hero to the civil rights supporters."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate met and adjourned today in 18 seconds to give senators a four-day holiday week end.

The token session, required by Senate rules, was far off the record time of two seconds, set Dec. 27, 1963.

The only senators in attendance were the presiding officer, Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va., and Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, of California, the deputy Republican leader.

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council says the airline strike may have been partly responsible for the record number of 5,130 highway traffic deaths in July.

The July toll was 21 per cent above that of July 1965. It also topped the previous record for a single month, 4,950, set in December 1965.

H. Gene Miller, the council's chief statistician, said Thursday the strike against five major airlines caused more people to travel by car last month and may have contributed to "at least several hundred more traffic deaths than might have been expected."

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Most of Ohio's 1,200 nursing homes will not accept Medicare patients under Title 18 of the Social Security Act next Jan. 1, an official of the Ohio Nursing Home Council predicted here today.

Velma B. Evans, council secretary, predicted "not more than 100" of the homes would enter the Medicare program. She cited low Medicare payments, rising costs, personnel shortages and high interest rates on construction loans as reasons for reluctance to participate.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Executive Committee of the Ohio Education Association has voted unanimously to allow Paul C. Hayes to finish his term as president of the 83,000-member teachers' organization.

Hayes, reportedly involved in a dispute with OEA leaders, will teach and perform research at Eastern Michigan University when his term ends this December.

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP)—The preliminary hearing of Mrs. Karen K. Posey, 21, charged with the Aug. 24 gun slaying of 18-year-old Joseph Isaac Relye in downtown Defiance, has been postponed until 9 a.m. Sept. 7 at the request of her defense attorney, Mrs. Posey was riding a car driven by Relye when he was shot, police charged.

LJUBLJANA, Yugoslavia (AP) — All 22 persons who survived the crash of a British airliner Thursday were reported out of danger today. The plane, a Britannia turboprop on holiday charter, plunged into a woods just short of the airport, killing 95 of the 117 Britons aboard.

Yugoslav and British experts found no immediate explanation of why the four-engine plane came in for a landing at an altitude of 60 feet over a wooded area instead of the required 600 and then plummeted into the woods. The pilot and copilot were killed.

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a new move to ease inflationary pressures, the Federal Reserve Board has urged bankers to slow down the pace of business lending.

Presidents of the 12 Federal Reserve Banks, in letters to approximately 6,000 member banks, spoke of restricting the borrowing authority of any bank in the system which does not comply.

The letter said total bank loans have increased at an annual rate of almost 12 per cent this year while bank loans to business rose more than 20 per cent. This total "has tended to ward unsustainable levels and

WASHINGTON (AP) — A compromise $3.5-billion foreign aid authorization bill that continues U.S. assistance on a year-to-year basis has cleared the House.

The 217-127 House vote sent the measure to the Senate. If the Senate accepts the joint conference report, the bill will go to President Johnson.

The administration lost its bid to place the aid program on a long-term basis, but did win restoration of most of the money the Senate had cut. The House originally authorized $4.1 billion, the Senate $2.8 billion.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A trip through the neighborhood showed many stores with smashed windows boarded up.

Later the street and adjacent blocks were sealed off but they were expected to be open to work-bound traffic today.

There were reports of trouble in the West Side area again Thursday night but nothing of a serious nature developed, police said.

Two Negro juveniles were shot and wounded but police said they were attempting to break into a residence "beyond the riot area."

Mayor Hall said he saw "no indication of outside agitation" in the disturbances. He said the National Guard would remain in Dayton "as long as we need them."

Four Injured While Working
Six persons received emergency care Thursday in the Emergency Room at Berger Hospital. Four of the cases resulted from commercial accidents.

Gus Hall, 40, Warren, O., was treated and released when a piece of steel lodged in his right leg while working on a railroad.

Adam Stevenson, 26, Irwin, Pa., lacerated his head while working at Pittsburg Plate Glass.

Randell Wolfe, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wolfe, 205 Pontious Lane, lacerated his right arm while at his grandmother's house.

Henry Johnston Jr., 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnston Sr., 151 Pontious Lane, fell from his tricycle and lacerated his forehead.

Sixth Union Carbide Facility Hit by Strike
SISTERSVILLE, W. Va. (AP) — The Union Carbide Corp. plant here became the company's sixth facility in four states to be hit with labor problems as more than 200 employees walked off the job Thursday.

At least 3,500 Union Carbide employees were off the jobs at plants in Alloy, W. Va.; Marietta and Ashtabula, Ohio; Portland, Ore.; and East Chicago, Ind. as a result of a contract dispute.

passing auto. Police have taken two whites into custody for questioning.

City jails were full and a county jail was pressed into service to handle the overflow. Among the suspects held were three Dayton civil rights leaders charged with inciting to riot.

A series of incidents in the morning led Hall to ask Gov. James A. Rhodes to call in the National Guard. The soldiers were on the streets by early afternoon but calm was not fully restored until late Thursday night.

The police made no estimate of the amount of damage caused by the roving bands.

Dayton has a Negro population of about 70,000. About 15,000 live in the West Side area where the disorder was centered.

It is a largely rundown section through which thousands of workers must travel on their way to work at industrial plants.

Some buses carrying white workers were stoned during the course of the day.

A trip through the neighborhood showed many stores with smashed windows boarded up.

Later the street and adjacent blocks were sealed off but they were expected to be open to work-bound traffic today.

Local Man Hospitalized After Crash
Russel Congrove Jr., 21, of 355 Eva Drive was admitted to Berger Hospital Thursday afternoon for treatment of injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

Congrove was northbound on the Circleville-Winchester road. Officers said his auto collided head on with a car driven by Raymond Brown, 26, Circleville.

The collision was just south of the East Ringgold and Red Bridge Roads.

Brown had just turned south. Congrove was left of center when the collision occurred, according to Deputy Sheriff Charles Jones.

Congrove suffered a severe laceration of the nose. Franklin Chestnut, Route 1, was treated for facial lacerations by Berger Hospital's emergency staff.

Brown sustained a bruised chin and was referred to his family physician for treatment.

Stock Mart Dips Lower
NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market headed sharply lower early this afternoon. Airlines and other glamor stocks were weak.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was down 8.02 at 784.07.

The decline followed three successive daily rallies from the lowest level in 2 1/2 years. It preceded the long Labor Day weekend, traditionally a milestone for business and the stock market. Securities exchange will be closed Monday.

The more volatile issues lost from fractions to several points.

Blue chips, which have been recovering strongly in the past couple days, showed losses running mostly from fractions to a little over a point.

Aside from the eminence of the weekend, losses by airlines and some other issues were linked with published reports that the 7 per cent tax credit on business investments might be dropped.

ceremony at the foot of the crimson and gold Cambodian throne, added that an international agreement should be reached to assure guaranteed and controlled neutrality for Viet Nam. This should be done, the statement added, by "agreement by all Vietnamese."

Shortly before, North Viet Nam in effect rejected De Gaulle's suggestion that peace talks might begin if the United States agreed to a timetable for pulling out its military forces.

Premier Pham Van Dong of North Viet Nam in a speech in Hanoi late Thursday declared his country will not attend a peace conference until the United States withdraws its troops from South Viet Nam, recognizes the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front, and halts the war.

U.S. officials in Washington called De Gaulle's proposal unrealistic since it did not include a corresponding timetable for ending North Viet Nam's drive against the South.

The U.S. government Thursday swallowed its displeasure at the anti-American tone of De Gaulle's remarks behind "no comments" at the White House and State Department.

President Johnson and his foreign policy advisers had not yet read the text, it was explained. After the text did become available — none was supplied by the French government to U.S. officials — the Johnson administration decided again to shun public comment.

However, a State Department spokesman noted that the U.S. government repeatedly has stated — as he put it — "we do not desire to retain U.S. troops in South Viet Nam after peace is assured." And U.S. officials said Hanoi had rebuffed many U.S. efforts for a reciprocal withdrawal or scaling down in the fighting.

Privately, it was assumed that De Gaulle was making his trip to revive the French image in the Southeast Asia area and to lay grounds for playing a peacemaking role at such time as a settlement might become possible.

However, Washington doubted that with France herself having withdrawn her physical presence from Southeast Asia more than a decade ago, Peking and Hanoi would pay much attention to French words now. And De Gaulle's language did not endear him to the U.S. government, either.

Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., said De Gaulle's call for evacuation of foreign troops from Viet Nam presents no "insurmountable obstacles" to peace negotiations.

Mansfield, the Senate Democratic leader, called again in a statement for a meeting between President Johnson and De Gaulle. Neither head of state has indicated any current desire for such a conference.

GI Wives Get OK On Tax Refunds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Internal Revenue Service said today tax refunds for wives of servicemen in Viet Nam won't be delayed because the husband failed to sign a joint income tax return.

"It is IRS policy and practice to give special consideration to military personnel and their families," the service said. It said a contrary view was implied in recent reports of difficulties encountered by the wife of an American prisoner of war in Viet Nam.

On federal income tax returns, IRS said, the wife of an overseas serviceman need only indicate in the space provided for her husband's signature that he is in Viet Nam. The return will then be processed and any refund will be expedited, IRS said.

Cincinnati Symphony Is Banned in Bombay

BOMBAY, India (AP) — The Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra was called back for several encores Thursday night at its second concert here as extra chairs were set up in the 3,500-seat Shanmukhananda Hall to cope with an overflow audience. The orchestra, on a world tour sponsored by the U. S. State Department, gives its next concert in Singapore.

News of World in Brief

OREGONIA, Ohio (AP) — Parkie A. Scott, organizer of the National Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, said today that klansmen would picket the Montgomery County fair grounds during President Johnson's scheduled visit there Monday.

"The president is coming to Dayton so he can criticize officials for not turning the city over to the Negroes," Scott said. "With this present trouble in Dayton going on, he will then be a big hero to the civil rights supporters."

The 217-127 House vote sent the measure to the Senate. If the Senate accepts the joint conference report, the bill will go to President Johnson.

The administration lost its bid to place the aid program on a long-term basis, but did win restoration of most of the money the Senate had cut. The House originally authorized $4.1 billion, the Senate $2.8 billion.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate met and adjourned today in 18 seconds to give senators a four-day holiday week end.

The token session, required by Senate rules, was far off the record time of two seconds, set Dec. 27, 1963.

The only senators in attendance were the presiding officer, Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va., and Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel, of California, the deputy Republican leader.

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council says the airline strike may have been partly responsible for the record number of 5,130 highway traffic deaths in July.

The July toll was 21 per cent above that of July 1965. It also topped the previous record for a single month, 4,950, set in December 1965.

H. Gene Miller, the council's chief statistician, said Thursday the strike against five major airlines caused more people to travel by car last month and may have contributed to "at least several hundred more traffic deaths than might have been expected."

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Most of Ohio's 1,200 nursing homes will not accept Medicare patients under Title 18 of the Social Security Act next Jan. 1, an official of the Ohio Nursing Home Council predicted here today.

Velma B. Evans, council secretary, predicted "not more than 100" of the home would enter the Medicare program. She cited low Medicare payments, rising costs, personnel shortages and high interest rates on construction loans as reasons for reluctance to participate.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Executive Committee of the Ohio Education Association has voted unanimously to allow Paul C. Hayes to finish his term as president of the 83,000-member teachers' organization.

Hayes, reportedly involved in a dispute with OEA leaders, will teach and perform research at Eastern Michigan University when his term ends this December.

DEFIANCE, Ohio (AP) — The preliminary hearing of Mrs. Karen K. Posey, 21, charged with the Aug. 24 gun slaying of 18-year-old Joseph Isaac Relye in downtown Defiance, has been postponed until 9 a.m. Sept. 7 at the request of her defense attorney, Mrs. Posey was riding a car driven by Relye when he was shot, police charged.

LIUBLJANA, Yugoslavia (AP) — All 22 persons who survived the crash of a British airliner Thursday were reported out of danger today. The plane, a Britannia turboprop on holiday charter, plunged into a woods just short of the airport, killing 95 of the 117 Britons aboard.

Yugoslav and British experts found no immediate explanation of why the four-engine plane came in for a landing at an altitude of 60 feet over a wooded area instead of the required 600 and then plummeted into the woods. The pilot and copilot were killed.

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a new move to ease inflationary pressures, the Federal Reserve Board has urged bankers to slow down the pace of business lending.

Presidents of the 12 Federal Reserve Banks, in letters to approximately 6,000 member banks, spoke of restricting the borrowing authority of any bank in the system which does not comply.

The letter said total bank loans have increased at an annual rate of almost 12 per cent this year while bank loans to business rose more than 20 per cent. This total "has tended to ward unsustainable levels and passing auto. Police have taken two whites into custody for questioning.

City jails were full and a county jail was pressed into service to handle the overflow. Among the suspects held were three Dayton civil rights leaders charged with inciting to riot.

A series of incidents in the morning led Hall to ask Gov. James A. Rhodes to call in the National Guard. The soldiers were on the streets by early afternoon but calm was not fully restored until late Thursday night.

The police made no estimate of the amount of damage caused by the roving bands.

Dayton has a Negro population of about 70,000. About 15,000 live in the West Side area where the disorder was centered.

It is a largely rundown section through which thousands of workers must travel on their way to work at industrial plants.

Some buses carrying white workers were stoned during the course of the day.

A trip through the neighborhood showed many stores with smashed windows boarded up.

Later the street and adjacent blocks were sealed off but they were expected to be open to work-bound traffic today.

There were reports of trouble in the West Side area again Thursday night but nothing of a serious nature developed, police said.

Two Negro juveniles were shot and wounded but police said they were attempting to break into a residence "beyond the riot area."

Mayor Hall said he saw "no indication of outside agitation" in the disturbances. He said the National Guard would remain in Dayton "as long as we need them."

Four Injured While Working

Six persons received emergency care Thursday in the Emergency Room at Berger Hospital. Four of the cases resulted from commercial accidents.

Gus Hall, 40, Warren, O., was treated and released when a piece of steel lodged in his right leg while working on a railroad.

Adam Stevenson, 26, Irwin, Pa., lacerated his head while working at Pittsburgh Plate Glass.

Randell Wolfe, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wolfe, 205 Pontious Lane, lacerated his right arm while at his grandmother's house.

Henry Johnston Jr., 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Johnston Sr., 151 Pontious Lane, fell from his tricycle and lacerated his forehead.

Sixth Union Carbide Facility Hit by Strike

SISTERSVILLE, W. Va. (AP) — The Union Carbide Corp. plant here became the company's sixth facility in four states to be hit with labor problems as more than 200 employees walked off the job Thursday.

At least 3,500 Union Carbide employees were off the jobs at plants in Alloy, W. Va.; Marietta and Ashtabula, Ohio; Portland, Ore.; and East Chicago, Ind. as a result of a contract dispute.

In the raids on the Red River rail line to Red China, pilots reported destroying or damaging four bridges and four freight cars along the main supply route.

The American pilots also hit at oil and supply depots and transport facilities in the Hanoi and Haiphong area and in North Viet Nam's southern Panhandle. They claimed damage to seven oil storage depots and said they destroyed or damaged 17 trucks 14 barges and four anti-aircraft sites.

In the most daring of the terrorist attacks, a group of Viet Cong walked into a village voting office at Tan Thoi, 30 miles northwest of Saigon, and asked for voting information. They left behind a mine which wounded three village councilors and five other civilians.

The bus was mined 24 miles northeast of Saigon. The 12 dead included eight Vietnamese civilians and four militiamen.

Three other attacks were reported within an 18-mile radius of the capital.

Guerrillas attacked a militia outpost 12 miles northwest of Saigon and another outpost a mile farther away. A Vietnamese spokesman said several militiamen were killed and wounded in the attacks.

Cincy Bank Holdup Suspect Nabbed Quickly

CINCINNATI (AP) — A branch bank was robbed of $9,700, but the alleged holdup man didn't get far. He was captured after a wild chase through a shopping center.

Police said Kenneth Abbott, 50 Brecksville, was cornered by officers in a parking lot shortly after a branch of the Fifth Third Union Trust Co. was robbed Thursday. He was charged with malicious entry of a financial institution.

LBJ Tours Touch Areas Wrested from GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Take an outline map of the United States showing the congressional districts. Shade in those districts where Democrats upset Republicans in 1964.

Chances are your pencil has touched a lot of the spots where President Johnson has been traveling or will visit between now and Nov. 8, election day.

On the basis of his journeys to date, it appears plain the President has an especial concern to give what political help he can to first-term Democratic House members from marginal districts.

And well he might. They have supplied the votes that meant the difference between winning and losing in many of the tough legislative battles of this Congress.

In the 1964 election, Democrats ousted Republicans in 47 House districts and subsequently picked up a 48th district in a special California election. On their part, Republicans ousted 10 Democrats, seven of them in the South. The others were one each in California, Idaho and Wisconsin.

One of the happier events for the Democrats was defeat of five Republicans in Iowa. It was the biggest Democratic gain made in any state except more populous New York where Democrats took seven seats from Republicans.

Where did Johnson go when he made his first openly political speechmaking of the year in June? To Iowa and to neighboring Nebraska where the Democrats had picked up one House seat.

Came July and the President whirled on a warm Saturday into Indiana — two fresh Democrats, Illinois, one and Kentucky, one.

The weekend of Aug. 19-21 Johnson was off on what was advertised as a nonpolitical trip, climaxed by a conference at Campobello with Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson.

He went by way of Buffalo, Syracuse and Ellenville, N.Y., speaking at all three places.

Buffalo is the home territory of Democratic first term Richard D. McCarthy who beat conservative Republican John R. Pillion in 1964 and has a rematch with him this fall.

Syracuse is in the district of Rep. J. Michael Hanley, another of the 1964 Democratic winners, and Ellenville is the home town of first term Joseph Y. Resnick.

Resnick's fall opponent is Hamilton Fish Jr., son of the congressman Fish who was often a political target of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Roosevelt always seemed a bit nettled that the people of his home New York district would send a Republican to Congress.

From New York it was on into New Hampshire — one first term and Maine, one — with a stop also in Rhode Island where the Democrats want very much to beat Republican Gov. John H. Chafee in the fall.

The following weekend, Aug. 26-27 Johnson hopped off to Colorado — two first terms — and to Idaho and Oklahoma. All three of these states have Republican governors now and are electing governors this year.

Each also elects a senator this year. Republicans are up in Colorado and Idaho and a Democrat in Oklahoma.

Where may the President still go if he is indeed primarily concerned politically this year to help the first-term Democrats?

Going back to the map, there are four shaded districts in Ohio and three in Michigan. One of the Ohio first termers is John J. Milligan who is opposed by Robert Taft Jr., bearer of another name which, like Fish, stirs the combative instincts of Democrats in high places.

There are four in New Jersey and two in Pennsylvania. And — surely a West Coast trip is a possibility — four in Washington State.

A trip West might involve stops in Wyoming — one and Montana. The Wyoming first term, Rep. Teno Roncallo, is trying for the Senate against Gov. Clifford P. Hansen. Democratic Sen. Lee Metcalf has the prospect of a tough fight for reelection against Gov. Tim M. Babcock.

If he goes west to the West Coast, Johnson no doubt would like to do anything he can to help Democratic Rep. Robert B. Duncan who is running for the Senate in Oregon against Gov. Mark O. Hatfield.

Might he to into California where Republican Ronald Reagan is challenging Gov. Edmund G. Brown? There are a couple of freshmen Democratic House members there.

NO PARKING — Police Chief Robert Temple reminded motorists today that "no parking" signs have been erected along both sides of Nicholas Drive. The objective is to maintain a smooth flow of traffic, especially after school starts Tuesday. Here Patrolman Richard Blaney points to one of the new markers.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. Thant is a believer in Buddhism, which counsels patience and peace. But he finally got fed up.

That's simple English for the 1,000-word statement he issued Thursday to explain why after five years as secretary-general of the United Nations, he doesn't want to continue in that post after his term is up Nov. 3.

In many ways it is an impossible job, which is what one of his predecessors, Trygve Lie, called it, even though it pays $65,000 a year.

His statement was a frank and, in part, a bitter complaint that the 117-member organization had fallen far short of the U.N. Charter's opening promise to maintain "peace and security" in the world.

His bluntness was part of his make-up for, as he once explained, although "diplomacy demands honeyed words, I am not a believer in honeyed words."

Yet, Thant, 57, was a bit of a nobody to the rest of the world when he was unanimously chosen U.N. secretary-general in 1961 to succeed the brilliant Dag Hammarskjold, killed in a plane crash shortly before.

In his native Burma he had been a schoolteacher, a government public relations man, diplomat, a member of the Burmese U.N. delegation in 1952, and finally head of the delegation.

Burma, on Red China's doorstep and caught between the pressures of East and West, tried to be neutral, like Hammarskjold's Sweden. Thant was neutral, too, but he took this position:

A neutral who truly tried to serve the United Nations should be an active neutral. And he was an outspoken one, a condition which didn't endear him to everyone.

In 1962, when he was trying to get the chaotic Congo reunified, he called the leaders of the secessionist Katanga Province a "bunch of clowns."

Over the Moscow Radio he told the Russian people they were not being given the full story about the Congo, where Russia was trying to butt in.

LBJ Tours Touch Areas Wrested from GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Take an outline map of the United States showing the congressional districts. Shade in those districts where Democrats upset Republicans in 1964.

Chances are your pencil has touched a lot of the spots where President Johnson has been traveling or will visit between now and Nov. 8, election day.

On the basis of his journeys to date, it appears plain the President has an especial concern to give what political help he can to first-term Democratic House members from marginal districts.

And well he might. They have supplied the votes that meant the difference between winning and losing in many of the tough legislative battles of this Congress.

In the 1964 election, Democrats ousted Republicans in 47 House districts and subsequently picked up a 48th district in a special California election. On their part, Republicans ousted 10 Democrats, seven of them in the South. The others were one each in California, Idaho and Wisconsin.

One of the happier events for the Democrats was defeat of five Republicans in Iowa. It was the biggest Democratic gain made in any state except more populous New York where Democrats took seven seats from Republicans.

Where did Johnson go when he made his first openly political speechmaking of the year in June? To Iowa and to neighboring Nebraska where the Democrats had picked up one House seat.

Came July and the President whirled on a warm Saturday into Indiana — two fresh Democrats, Illinois, one and Kentucky, one.

The weekend of Aug. 19-21 Johnson was off on what was advertised as a nonpolitical trip, climaxed by a conference at Campobello with Canadian Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson.

He went by way of Buffalo, Syracuse and Ellenville, N.Y., speaking at all three places.

Buffalo is the home territory of Democratic first term Richard D. McCarthy who beat conservative Republican John R. Pillion in 1964 and has a rematch with him this fall. Syracuse is in the district of Rep. J. Michael Hanley, another of the 1964 Democratic winners, and Ellenville is the home town of first term Joseph Y. Resnick.

Resnick's fall opponent is Hamilton Fish Jr., son of the congressman Fish who was often a political target of President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Roosevelt always seemed a bit nettled that the people of his home New York district would send a Republican to Congress.

From New York it was on into New Hampshire — one first term and Maine, one — with a stop also in Rhode Island where the Democrats want very much to beat Republican Gov. John H. Chafee in the fall.

The following weekend, Aug. 26-27 Johnson hopped off to Colorado — two first termers — and to Idaho and Oklahoma. All three of these states have Republican governors now and are electing governors this year.

Each also elects a senator this year. Republicans are up in Colorado and Idaho and a Democrat in Oklahoma.

Where may the President still go if he is indeed primarily concerned politically this year to help the first-term Democrats? Going back to the map, there are four shaded districts in Ohio and three in Michigan. One of the Ohio first termers is John J. Milligan who is opposed by Robert Taft Jr., bearer of another name which, like Fish, stirs the combative instincts of Democrats in high places.

There are four in New Jersey and two in Pennsylvania. And — surely a West Coast trip is a possibility — four in Washington State.

A trip West might involve stops in Wyoming — one and Montana. The Wyoming first term, Rep. Teno Roncalio, is trying for the Senate against Gov. Clifford P. Hansen, Democratic Sen. Lee Metcalf has the prospect of a tough fight for reelection against Gov. Tim M. Babcock.

If he goes west to the West Coast, Johnson no doubt would like to do anything he can to help Democratic Rep. Robert B. Duncan who is running for the Senate in Oregon against Gov. Mark O. Hatfield.

Might he go to California where Republican Ronald Reagan is challenging Gov. Edmund G. Brown? There are a couple of freshmen Democratic house members there.

NO PARKING — Police Chief Robert Temple reminded motorists today that "no parking" signs have been erected along both sides of Nicholas Drive. The objective is to maintain a smooth flow of traffic, especially after school starts Tuesday. Here Patrolman Richard Blaney points to one of the new markers.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — U. Thant is a believer in Buddhism, which counsels patience and peace. But he finally got fed up.

That's simple English for the 1,000-word statement he issued Thursday to explain why after five years as secretary-general of the United Nations, he doesn't want to continue in that post after his term is up Nov. 3.

In many ways it is an impossible job, which is what one of his predecessors, Trygve Lie, called it, even though it pays $65,000 a year.

His statement was a frank and, in part, a bitter complaint that the 117-member organization had fallen far short of the U.N. Charter's opening promise to maintain "peace and security" in the world.

His bluntness was part of his make-up for, as he once explained, although "diplomacy demands honeyed words, I am not a believer in honeyed words."

Yet, Thant, 57, was a bit of a nobody to the rest of the world when he was unanimously chosen U.N. secretary-general in 1961 to succeed the brilliant Dag Hammarskjold, killed in a plane crash shortly before.

In his native Burma he had been a schoolteacher, a government public relations man, diplomat, a member of the Burmese U.N. delegation in 1952, and finally head of the delegation.

Burma, on Red China's doorstep and caught between the pressures of East and West, tried to be neutral, like Hammarskjold's Sweden. Thant was neutral, too, but he took this position:

A neutral who truly tried to serve the United Nations should be an active neutral. And he was an outspoken one, a condition which didn't endear him to everyone.

In 1962, when he was trying to get the chaotic Congo reunified he called the leaders of the secessionist Katanga Province a "bunch of clowns."

Another Export

Another bit of American "culture" has gone abroad. The American Way of Death is becoming commonplace in West Germany.

Prior to World War II, a death in Germany called for the modest expense of asking a carpenter to build a wooden coffin to fit the proportions of the deceased. Neighbors helped "lay out" the corpse and dug the grave. The total expense was small.

But today this pattern no longer prevails. The cost of dying has risen rapidly. To comfort the bereaved, "licensed undertakers" have entered the scene. For a price which averages more than $200 they take the deceased out of the home, repose it in a factory-made coffin and transport it to the cemetery at the arranged hour of burial. Coffins are getting fancier and more expensive.

In both Germany and America funeral costs are rising. All of which proves something about human nature.

Keeping the Earth Fit

Man spends so many billions of dollars finding bigger and better ways to kill people, and more billions developing the ability to travel to other planets, that it's heartening to find even a few dollars being spent to preserve life on earth.

That's what the U. S. Public Health Service is doing. It has granted Washington University in St. Louis $4 million to find out how badly man has contaminated his environment and what can be done about it.

The university study will consider such factors as insecticides, radioactivity from nuclear testing and other sources, urbanization, and overpopulation. The goal is to figure out how to keep the earth fit to live on.

Four million dollars isn't a lot of money nowadays. It's four-tenths of one per cent of a billion dollars, and it's a start. This could in time become the greatest government undertaking of all time, with one-half of the population of the U. S. on the payroll and outlays of hundreds of billions a year.

Social Security started with a tax bite of one-half of one per cent.

Middle Age Brings Rare Freedom

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Freedom isn't just for the birds. It's for middle-aged people, too.

In some ways there is no freedom quite so enjoyable as the freedom middle age brings — if one is simply wise enough to realize it.

For example:

In middle age you are freer to tell the truth, because you probably wear glasses and therefore are less likely to get slammed in the nose.

Nobody calls you a sissy if you carry an umbrella on a cloudy day. At your time of life it's the proper thing to do.

You are free to leave a cocktail party before midnight. Everyone realizes that you simply must get your sleep.

It is no longer necessary for a husband to greet his wife's friends with a real kiss, usually more of a chore than a thrill anyway. A quick peck on their faded cheeks will satisfy them just as well — and think of the head colds you avoid!

You are free to read naughty books without fear of being corrupted. History records few cases of a man over 40 being led astray by a bad book.

The range of interesting diseases you can acquire widens appreciably. Compared to them, the ailments of youth seem maudlin or picaresque. Who wouldn't rather listen to a mature man discuss his gout than a callow youth rant against his acne?

You feel free to give advice. Giving good advice is unquestionably one of the greatest human pleasures, and it is widely accepted as an inalienable right of the middle-aged and the elderly. It is unimportant whether the advice is followed. In fact, it is better if your advice is disregarded. Then, when disaster inevitably ensues, you are free to indulge in another satisfying middle-age luxury, saying: "Well, I told you so!"

After 40 or 50, you are at liberty to become more tolerant. Hatred, bigotry and prejudice tend to elevate the blood pressure, and you can discard them as health dangers. Why burst an artery hating an enemy? That would only give him satisfaction. It is far, far better to forgive him — and let him bust a blood vessel in frustration.

You are free now, because of a higher income, to eat and drink all the things that would probably have killed you if you could have afforded them in your youth. But you probably don't want them anymore.

Middle age is the time to be bold and unconventional and experimental and a breaker of patterns. For then, no matter how big a fool you make of yourself, a charitable world will probably only say in judgment: "Poor fellow, and at his age — he must be getting senile."

The Business World

By Sam Dawson

NEW YORK (AP) — As Americans head into their last long holiday weekend of summer and wonder what fall will hold for them, many are worrying lest the big stock market plunge means that another recession is on the way. But a big drop in stock prices hasn't always foreshadowed a decline in business by any means. Stock traders aren't that all-knowing. The market got its hold on public psychology because the big crash of 1929 was followed by the depression of the 1930s. The public blamed all its ills of the 30s on what happened in Wall Street at the end of the 20s. Since World War II, however, a stock market break, as often as not, hasn't fazed the economy in the least.

At the end of the war, stock traders began looking for signs of a recession. And stock prices fell 20 per cent between May and November 1946. But business ignored the goings-on in the market and continued a steady rise for 2½ more years. The market scored a little better as a soothsayer in the summer of 1948. Stock prices dropped 10 per cent, and the first postwar recession stretched from late 1948 till October 1949. But it was a mild downturn and not the postwar depression many stock traders had predicted.

The Korean War started in mid-1950 and stock prices beat a retreat. But business boomed till the recession of 1950-54. Stocks had recovered their daring before that, and continued upward even as business altered.

President Eisenhower's heart attack in 1955 brought a sharp break in stock prices, but business ignored it and rose for two more years. The economy prospered even while stock prices were falling 12 per cent between July 1956 and February 1957.

Another recession hit in August 1957 and stretched until early in 1958. But stock prices rose 9 per cent between February 1957 and July 1959. They then turned down by 1 per cent until October 1960. The last recession had already started and stretched into February 1961, but stock prices were rising during most of its duration.

Will this year's stock market plunge be as poor a forecast of the economy's future, as the 27 per cent plunge in 1962 in stock prices? The economy has expanded fairly steadily since early 1961. It ignored the 1962 stock market.

After Labor Day, things could look a lot less worrisome. It's happened before, it could happen again.

LAFF-A-DAY

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

A SOCIAL-CLIMBING lady in the Detroit area took a dim view of her only son's newest girl friend, and demanded that before the affair went too far, the father speak to the boy about the kind of girl he should—and should NOT—marry.

"Well," said the wife later, "did you talk some sense into his head?"
"I had to be very careful," replied her husband gently. "He used the same arguments that I used when my father objected to you."

James Michener, author of "Hawaii" and "The Source" declined a dinner invitation at the White House recently, but his explanatory letter to President Johnson made full amends. "Dear Mr. President," wrote Michener. "I received your invitation three days after I had agreed to speak a few words at a dinner honoring the wonderful high school teacher who taught me how to write. I know you will not miss me at your dinner, but she might at hers."

Commented the understanding LBJ: "In his lifetime a man lives under 15 or 16 Presidents, but a really fine teacher comes into his life but rarely."

OVERHEARD:

Wealthy matron to vet: "I want my sheepdog examined thoroughly at once. I think he has moths."
Cagey shopper: "I always like to look at Macy's windows on November fifth. That's the day they feature election-bet losers."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

My father is 48 years old. He has just been told that he has a mild case of diabetes. He has been given a diet and special pills to take.

From the time he was told about his condition he has been terribly depressed and seems to feel that his life is over and that he will be worthless to himself and to his family. The doctor has assured him that this is not true, but none of us seem to be able to reach him. Is such a reaction a usual one with this condition?

Miss D.Y., New Jersey
Dear Miss Y.: It is not unusual for responsible heads of families to become severely depressed when they are first told that they have a chronic, serious medical problem.

Many suddenly feel that they are about to be dislocated from all the normal patterns of their life and they become overwhelmingly anxious about themselves and their diseases.

Some people even go so far as to narrow their world of activity. Their interests slowly disappear and their entire life seems to be dominated by their illness.

Physicians have noticed that relatively stable people remove themselves from contact with friends, and even separate themselves from their immediate family.

One of the explanations commonly given is that the normal functioning of the body during health is taken for granted. It is only when we are deprived of health that we acknowledge this great possession that we have neglected.

When your father realizes that the diabetic patient can be kept in control and that it need hardly affect his life at home and in his job, he will adjust to the minor limitations imposed on him.

A recent report showed that people with controlled diabetes did not average more than eight days a year out of work because of the condition. This probably can be explained by the better care that diabetics give to themselves in all other phases of health.

It is true that diabetes is a chronic disease which cannot be cured, but it can be kept in check with diet, drugs and insulin—depending on the severity of the condition.

The diabetic can live a reasonably normal life with some adjustments, but without severe handicap. He can take part in sports, lead a productive life, travel, and generally be released from the feeling that he is an invalid.

Your doctor and you will soon "get to him" by the repeated assurance that he is not as sick as he perhaps thinks he is.

The depressed reaction of your father will be temporary, and soon, with your support, he will be grateful that the diabetes was discovered early and that he is being treated to return him to good health.

Fresh Water Lake?

By John Chamberlain

A scientist has come up with an idea for damming up Long Island Sound and turning it into a fresh water lake. Just why it would be any more useful than it is as salt water is a mystery. The same polluted rivers would still flow into it, and the scouring ocean tides, which now clean it out, would not be able to perform their sanitizing function. Soon we would have an eastern seaboard version of Lake Erie, where the fish are reputedly dying for lack of oxygen. True enough, if the rivers themselves were cleansed, a fresh water sound would make a handsome reservoir. But, with pollution taken out of the rivers no new lake would be needed to supply the needs of eastern cities; they could take their water direct from the rivers themselves.

If the East doesn't need any more fresh water lakes, this can't be said of the West. There the rivers are still relatively unpolluted. The problem is to catch the water for distribution to desert lands which could be the fruitful Imperial Valleys of the future. So, if the Hualapai project for building a dam across the Colorado River one hundred and fifty miles downstream from the great sightseeing point of El Tovar could be carried out, it would mean a lot to the dry central valleys of Arizona.

The Sierra Club and other conservationist organizations are all against the proposed Hualapai Dam. They claim it would back the water up in the Colorado, destroy much wild life, and ruin the beauty of one of the really great wonders of nature. But that eminent Arizona, Barry Goldwater, says the embattled conservationists are all wrong in this instance.

Looking Back In Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO

The Rev. Henry Walters assumed the post of pastor at the First Presbyterian Church.

City schools opened their doors for the 1961-62 school term.

Ashville VFW Auxiliary Post No. 5067 presented a new 50-star American Flag to the County Children's Home.

TEN YEARS AGO

Burglars entered a restaurant south of the city and removed a box of doughnuts, pies, cakes, candy and cigarettes.

Dusty Rhoades and his orchestra played at a Back-to-School Dance at the St. Philip's Church Parish House.

Circleville High School's football roster listed nine seniors and 21 juniors busily preparing for the 1956 football season.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO

Dry weather in the area cut down corn production, according to many farmers.

Moreover, Barry Goldwater is speaking as one who holds that conservation is an integral part of the conservative philosophy. After all, the two word come from the same root.

The man who led the Republican Party to the 1964 defeat may not be trusted on the subject of atomic military policy, which involves a question of judgment. But nobody has ever questioned Barry's honesty. So, when he plaintively asks his friend to believe what he has to say about the Hualapai project, these friends owe Barry Goldwater the courtesy of hearing him through.

If the proposed dam would "inundate and flood the Grand Canyon," Barry says he would be against it. But he argues that it would do no such thing. In a letter to his friends Barry says he has "practically lived in this canyon, photographed it, studied it and explored it for fifty years of my life."

He goes on to trace the path of the proposed reservoir from its suggested beginning, which would be "fifty-four mile below El Tovar, to the dam itself some ninety - four miles further on downstream." For its first thirteen miles, say Goldwater, "it will form the northwest boundary of the Grand Canyon National Park." Thus it would not be in the park at all.

Lower down, the reservoir would "be bounded on the north by the Lake Mead National Recreation area and on the south by the Hualapai Reservation. The water behind Hualapai Dam would rise 474 feet above the streambed in a canyon that is over 5,000 feet deep in that area . . . Close to one hundred miles of the living river on the park itself would remain completely unaffected by Hualapai Dam or the lake behind it. The lake, far from impairing the beauty of the canyon would add immeasurably to its accessibility and thus make it available to hundreds of thousands . . . The Hualapai Indians want the dam built so they can become economically independent . . . There is little wild life in the canyon, and what there is would not be destroyed in any event."

Since Goldwater knows Arizona as no city fellow can possibly know it, and since his words have a surveyor's quality of precision, maybe the letter-writing conservationists who have been denouncing the Hualapai project should go out and check on the business from first-hand observation. There may be good reasons for objecting to the dam that escape Barry Goldwater; for one thing, he doesn't mention the thesis set forth in a book called "Big Dam Foolishness" that silting will, in time, ruin all our reservoirs made from damming swift-running rivers. But we have had too much emotionalism in the conservationists' resentments and Barry Goldwater at least deserves some answers based on his own surveyor-type approach.

Bus Schedules Completed For City School Students

New bus schedules will go into effect Tuesday with the opening of Circleville schools.

Superintendent Fritz Jacobs reminded parents today that some students offered transportation in previous years will not be eligible this year due to the opening of the new high school and first time operation of the junior high school.

Elementary pupils must live more than one mile from their respective school to be eligible for transportation. Junior high and high school students must live more than 1 1/2 miles away from the school. The same rule applies to parochial students, Jacobs noted.

Here are the schedules of the eight buses operated by the city school district:

BUS NO. 1 R. J. VARNELL, DRIVER

Trip No. 1 (junior high students only) — Starts at Garden Parkway and Holiday Lane at 7:25 a. m.; then to Georgia Road and Cedar Heights; then to Lone Pine Road and Cedar Heights; on to Atwater School; then to the Junior High School. Note: This bus picks up students living between Cedar Heights and Route 188. Students living north of Cedar Heights are picked up by Bus No. 8.

Trip No. 2 (high school students only) — Starts 7:55 a. m. and proceeds from the Junior High School to Mill and Pickaway Sts. for the first stop; then to Mound and Pickaway Sts.; eligible students for these two pickup points must live between Court and Washington Sts., east and west, and between Franklin and Corwin Sts., north and south. Students living on Franklin St., east of Pickaway are not eligible; students living on Mound St., east of Washington are not eligible and those living on Union St., east of Clinton are not eligible.

Trip No. 3 (elementary route to St. Joseph's) — Starts at 8:15 a. m. at Pontious Lane and Brinks Drive; then to the Garden Parkway at Holiday Lane; then to Ridgewood Drive and Cedar Heights Road; then to Atwater School and on to St. Joseph's School and unloads.

BUS NO. 2 ROD LIST, DRIVER

Trip No. 1 (junior high and high school students) — Starts 7:20 a. m. at Hillcrest Drive then out to Walnut Creek Pike to Swackhammer Road; on to Dunkle Road for a stop and then to Henn Road; on to Route 188 and Ridgewood; then to Circleville High School for unloading. Junior High students living on Avon Drive and Sunview will be picked up at the corner of the two streets; then on to the Junior High building for unloading.

Circleville Girl Is Style Revue Winner

Nancy May, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger May, Route 1, won a first place in the Ohio State Junior Fair style revue Thursday at the State Fair Thursday.

Miss May was presented a 4-H clock trophy for her winning entry in the sports clothes division.

Circleville High School for unloading. Junior High students living on Avon Drive and Sunview will be picked up at the corner of the two streets; then on to the Junior High building for unloading.

500 - Millionth Indian To Be Born This Month

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—One day this month, perhaps in a primitive village lacking either doctor or nurse, an Indian woman will give birth to the country's 500-millionth citizen.

Census officials decline to compute the exact time. They acknowledge that India will pass the half-billion mark in September, but there will be no official recognition of the milestone.

After all, when you have 499,999,999 people, what's one more?

India has more people than the combined total of the United States, Canada, Mexico, Brazil, England, France, West Germany, the Soviet Union, Australia and Japan.

It is surpassed only by Communist China, which has an estimated 750 million people.

The impact of population pressure has a grim, personal meaning here.

If conditions continue as they are, citizen No. 500 million will face dismal prospects for his life on the subcontinent, among them:

One chance in four of learning to read or write.

A life expectancy of 45 years—less if the baby is a girl—compared with 70 in the United States.

An average income of $42 per year, or 1 cents per day. He will spend eight out of every 10 rupees on food alone.

One chance in 140 of ever owning a radio; one chance in 1,000 of owning a telephone; and one chance in 3,000 of buying a newspaper.

One thing the baby can almost bet on is that he will get married. Only one out of every 12,500 Indians stays single. What's more, they marry young—often in their early teens—and have lots of children.

He can also count on a lifetime filled with illness and disease, because of an insufficient

Southwestern School District Levy Slated

Voters of Franklin County's South-Western City School district, which includes a portion of northwestern Pickaway County, will decide a 4.5 mill levy in November.

The tax will include a renewal of a 3.5 mill levy in addition to an increase of one mill to be used for current operating expenses. The combined levy will run for five years if passed.

The levy will affect a few families in Darby and Scioto Twp. in Pickaway County whose children attend the Franklin County school.

and poorly balanced diet and because of contaminated water and insanitary surroundings.

With massive assistance from abroad, India is making progress toward eradicating disease and increasing the food available. Ironically, this progress lies behind India's skyrocketing population.

Epidemics used to kill millions of people. In 1918 an estimated 1 million Indians died of influenza and the country lost population between 1911 and 92 censuses. But today, malaria has been conquered, smallpox is being wiped out and other diseases are in retreat.

Droughts used to ruin crops periodically and result in millions of starvation deaths. This type of tragedy was repeated as recently as 1943, but when famine threatened this year the United States shipped millions of tons of grain to India.

These advances have helped double India's population since 1901. Unless the birth rate is drastically reduced, it will double again—to one billion people—by 2000.

India's 500 millions live in roughly the same area as Argentina, which has 22 million. The population grows each year by more than 12 million people, an increase equal to Australia's total population.

Bus Schedules Completed For City School Students

New bus schedules will go into effect Tuesday with the opening of Circleville schools.

Superintendent Fritz Jacobs reminded parents today that some students offered transportation in previous years will not be eligible this year due to the opening of the new high school and first time operation of the junior high school.

Elementary pupils must live more than one mile from their respective school to be eligible for transportation. Junior high and high school students must live more than 1½ miles away from the school. The same rule applies to parochial students, Jacobs noted.

Here are the schedules of the eight buses operated by the city school district:

BUS NO. 1

R. J. VARNELL, DRIVER

Trip No. 1 (junior high students only) — Starts at Garden Parkway and Holiday Lane at 7:25 a. m.; then to Georgia Road and Cedar Heights; then to Lone Pine Road and Cedar Heights; on to Atwater School; then to the Junior High School; Note: This bus picks up students living between Cedar Heights and Route 188. Students living north of Cedar Heights are picked up by Bus No. 8.

Trip No. 2 (high school students only) — Starts 7:55 a. m. and proceeds from the Junior High School to Mill and Pickaway Sts. for the first stop; then to Mound and Pickaway Sts.; eligible students for these two pickup points must live between Court and Washington Sts., east and west, and between Franklin and Corwin Sts., north and south. Students living on Franklin St., east of Pickaway are not eligible; students living on Mound St., east of Washington are not eligible and those living on Union St., east of Clinton are not eligible.

Trip No. 3 (elementary route to St. Joseph's) — Starts at 8:15 a. m. at Pontious Lane and Brinks Drive; the to Garden Parkway at Holiday Lane; then to Ridgewood Drive and Cedar Heights Road; then to Atwater School and on to St. Joseph's School and unloads.

BUS NO. 2

ROD LIST, DRIVER

Trip No. 1 (junior high and high school students) — Starts 7:20 a. m. at Hillcrest Drive then out to Walnut Creek Pike to Swackhammer Road; on to Dunkle Road for a stop and then then to Henn Road; on to Route 188 and Ridgewood; then to Circleville High School for unloading. Junior High students living on Avon Drive and Sunnyside will be picked up at the corner of the two streets; then on to the Junior High building for unloading.

Duvall, Hower Nuptials Repeated in Hedges Chapel

Miss Karen Kay Duvall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Siebert E. Duvall, Route 1, Ashville and Mr. Donald Edward Hower, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hower, Annville, Pa., exchanged wedding vows 2:30 p. m. Saturday in the Hedges Chapel Methodist Church.

The Rev. William Sherertz performed the ceremony assisted by the Rev. William Hower, brother of the groom.

Thomas Duvall, cousin of the bride, provided organ music.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of candlelight silk faced satin designed with a scoop neckline. The bodice and elbow length sleeves were embroidered with pearl and crystal beading. The bell shaped skirt with inverted pleats, accented the back waistline with bow and streamers, flowed into a full chapel length train. Her veil of illusion fell from a satin crown embroidered with pearl and crystal beading. She carried a cascading arrangement of white daisies, statice and snow drift mums.

Miss Mary Jo Hower was the maid of honor. Miss Lynn Noecker, Miss Louise Hower and Miss Susan Hoffines were attendants. They carried baskets of lime green fugi mums, bronze daisies and pom pom mums with velvet cascading ribbons in gold.

Bridesmaids wore identical gowns of silk chiffon in avocado and lime green. They were designed with a high scoop neckline, short sleeves and accented at the high rise waistline with moss green velvet ribbon. A line skirts with back fullness were floor length. A matching daisy headpiece with circle veil completed their ensemble.

Mr. Terry Srsen served as best man. Ushers were John Johannsen, David Kimball and Kenen Edgington.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. After a wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania the couple will reside in Columbus, O.

The new Mrs. Hower is a junior in elementary education at Ohio State University. She is a member of Tau Beta Sigma, music honorary, a member of the Columbus Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. Hower is a senior at Ohio State University in music education and a member of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, music honorary where he is vice-president.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hower are members of the Ohio State University Concert Band.

Dear Abby:

By Abigail Van Buren

Dry Tears — Be Good Sport

DEAR ABBY: Even though I am only 13, I KNOW I am in love. Don't tell me I don't know what love is because for the last week all I have done is CRIED over him. Loving him is no problem, but him loving ME is the problem.

Not long ago I thought I had a chance, but now there is no hope because of an eleven-year-old girl who is throwing herself at him. Please tell me how to get him back, Abby? I will do ANYTHING.

BROKEN-HEARTED

DEAR B. H.: It is difficult to compete with a "younger woman." But dry your tears, honey and pretend you don't care. It may not win him back but at least you will show courage and good sportsmanship.

And if you're still crying by your 14th birthday, write again and we'll try something else.

DEAR ABBY: I have a story to tell and if you print it and it makes just one kid realize what can happen because of his own selfishness, it might make up for the harm I did to two families. I am a 20-year-old college sophomore who has carried a fake I. D. card for two years.

I don't drink much, but I used it to get into places where you have to be 21. Well, I went to this tavern and ordered a gin and tonic. The waitress asked to see my I.D. and I showed it to her. She served me. I had only one drink and left.

As I was getting into my car, a police officer stopped me and asked to see my I.D. He knew right away it was fake, so he took me down to the station and here is what happened: the two brothers who owned that tavern lost their liquor license. I found out later they were both World War II veterans with families. They worked and saved for 15 years, and then borrowed in order to buy that little tavern. They were doing just great until this happened. They lost their business and will probably lose their homes. And it's all my fault because I had to have a drink before I reached the legal age to buy one.

ASHAMED

DEAR ABBY: If this didn't happen to me I would never have believed it. My mother called me long distance last night around midnight. (I am 29, self-supporting and live out of state.) Mother said she had been receiving strong "vibrations" all evening about me, and she just had to call to see if everything was all right.

Well, an hour before mother called, the man with whom I had been keeping steady company for four years proposed to me! We were sitting there debating whether to call Mother and tell her the news. Now, how do you account for that?

"MYSTIFIED"

DEAR MYSTIFIED: If you are asking me whether your mother's "vibrations" could have been attributed to extra sensory perception—yes, they could. (And also to her woman's intuition, and possibly a mother's wishful thinking.)

Italian Actress Likes U.S. Men over Age 40

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — There is a difference between men over 40 in America and in Europe, says Claudia Cardinale, and she adds: Viva la difference.

Latest of the Italian sex-queens to invade Hollywood, she admits to being little known to the American audience while being a top favorite in Italy. She was enjoying a rare day off from her current film with Tony Curtis, "Don't Make Waves," and she volunteered some comparisons on American men vs. Europeans particularly the Italians.

"When a man reaches 40 in Italy, he is virtually finished," she remarked fearlessly. "His youth is gone, and he starts falling into old age."

"But in America, it is different. Here, a man who passes 40 is still youthful. His interests and attitudes remain young, and therefore he looks young."

Why is this so? She agreed that America places greater emphasis on the glories of youth. The diet seems to favor Americans as well, the more varied meals being easier on the figure than the Italians' pasta—"though you have plenty of fat people in this country, too."

"That is important," she insisted. "The American man continues to take part in sports well after 40. The Italian man is also interested in sports, but he is content to watch instead of play after he has reached 40."

The same is true of the French men over 40, she remarked, although she observed they seemed more interested in the indoor sports. The English are more concerned with the outdoor sports, she added, but less so than the Americans.

If you serve whipped cream with Pecan Pie, don't sweeten the garnish! Pecan Pie is quite sweet enough as is.

YOUR MONEY

By "Chet" McKenzie

Money is a fascinating subject, especially if it's your own. And there are a lot of misconceptions about money and its use, just as there are many unknown facts about financial institutions, such as savings and loan associations, which are playing such an increasingly important role in our nation's money matters.

That's what this column is all about. It'll be appearing here each week. We'll talk about your money, including the things it can be used for, from a trip to Hawaii to the purchase of a new home. We'll try to answer your questions about money management, savings and home financing.

We'll talk about savings and loan associations, too — their little known history, the reasons behind their tremendous growth in this century, the part they can play in making your hopes and dreams and sense of security become reality.

We hope you'll read our comments each week . . . and stop in and get acquainted at our office — a good place for your money to grow!

Dayton Riot Victim Points To Teen-Agers

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—"They were just a bunch of teen-agers. . . just teen-agers. I seen about six or seven of 'em reach for bricks and when the light changed they really let me have it."

Lester Koogler, 64-year-old truck driver, mumbled that lament through jaws broken by a thrown brick as he drove through the predominantly Negro West Side at height of Thursday's racial strife.

His story was repeated with few variations by many other of the 2 persons injured during the day of sporadic violence.

"One got me in the face and I laid down on the seat while the rest went over," said Robert McKeough, 47, truck driver for a lumber company.

"Some cops came and got me out," he said. "If they hadn't, I think they (the attackers) would have come right in the truck after me."

The day-long violence began within minutes after the fatal shooting of a 40-year-old Negro man. But City Commissioner Don L. Crawford, a Negro who laid down the mayor's post last year, said, "Many kinds of things must have gone into this nasty situation."

"I believe it couldn't have grown from a single incident. Conditions on the West Side that preceded today by many days and many months created a people so bitterly angry that they vented their anger in violence."

One of the most dramatic confrontations of the day was between Mayor Dave Hall and Ohio Freedom Movement leader W. Sumpter McIntosh on a nearly empty glass-strewn street in the riot area.

Each blamed the other for the riot.

"I hold you, the police chief and the city responsible," said McIntosh, whose movement is generally considered a splinter civil rights group.

"You wouldn't come down here and meet with us."

"How can you hold the city responsible?" Hall asked. "Who said we wouldn't come down?"

A few minutes later, with the mayor, McIntosh and police officers gone, the scene was a mass of about 500 milling people looting and throwing rocks and bottles.

Downtown Dayton, normally busy on a Thursday night, was nearly deserted.

Most stores scheduled to remain open until 9 p.m. had closed by mid-afternoon. Most restaurants and bars had closed by early evening.

Three of the main downtown theaters closed after their matinees.

All of Dayton's 5 state liquor stores were closed on order of Donald Cook, Ohio liquor control director, after Police Chief Lawrence Taylor requested the move. They were to remain shut until the chief's further word.

Duvall, Hower Nuptials Repeated in Hedges Chapel

Miss Karen Kay Duvall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Siebert E. Duvall, Route 1, Ashville and Mr. Donald Edward Hower, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hower, Annville, Pa., exchanged wedding vows 2:30 p. m. Saturday in the Hedges Chapel Methodist Church.

The Rev. William Sherertz performed the ceremony assisted by the Rev. William Hower, brother of the groom.

Thomas Duvall, cousin of the bride, provided organ music.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a gown of candlelight silk faced satin designed with a scoop neckline. The bodice and elbow length sleeves were embroidered with pearl and crystal beading. The bell shaped skirt with inverted pleats, accented the back waistline with bow and streamers, flowed into a full chapel length train. Her veil of illusion fell from a satin crown embroidered with pearl and crystal beading. She carried a cascading arrangement of white daisies, statice and snow drift mums.

Miss Mary Jo Hower was the maid of honor. Miss Lynn Noecker, Miss Louise Hower and Miss Susan Hoffines were attendants. They carried baskets of lime green fugu mums, bronze daisies and pom poms mums with velvet cascading ribbons in gold.

Bridesmaids wore identical gowns of silk chiffon in avocado and lime green. They were designed with a high scoop neckline, short sleeves and accented at the high rise waistline with moss green velvet ribbon. A line skirts with back fullness were floor length. A matching daisy headpiece with circle veil completed their ensemble.

Mr. Terry Srsen served as best man. Ushers were John Johansen, David Kimball and Kenen Edgington.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. After a wedding trip to the Pocono Mountains in Pennsylvania the couple will reside in Columbus, O.

The new Mrs. Hower is a junior in elementary education at Ohio State University. She is a member of Tau Beta Sigma, music honorary, a member of the Columbus Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. Hower is a senior at Ohio State University in music education and a member of Phi Mu Alpha Sinfonia, music honorary where he is vice-president.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hower are members of the Ohio State University Concert Band.

Reunion Held In Ashville

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Dry Tears — Be Good Sport

DEAR ABBY: Even though I am only 13, I KNOW I am in love. Don't tell me I don't know what love is because for the last week all I have done is CRIED over him. Loving him is no problem, but him loving ME is the problem.

Not long ago I thought I had a chance, but now there is no hope because of an eleven-year-old girl who is throwing herself at him. Please tell me how to get him back, Abby? I will do ANYTHING.

BROKEN-HEARTED
DEAR B. H.: It is difficult to compete with a "younger woman." But dry your tears, honey and pretend you don't care. It may not win him back but at least you will show courage and good sportsmanship.

And if you're still crying by your 14th birthday, write again and we'll try something else.

DEAR ABBY: I have a story to tell and if you print it and it makes just one kid realize what can happen because of his own selfishness, it might make up for the harm I did to two families. I am a 20-year-old college sophomore who has carried a fake I. D. card for two years.

I don't drink much, but I used it to get into places where you have to be 21. Well, I went to this tavern and ordered a gin and tonic. The waitress asked to see my I.D. and I showed it to her. She served me. I had only one drink and left.

As I was getting into my car, a police officer stopped me and asked to see my I.D. He knew right away it was fake, so he took me down to the station and here is what happened: the two brothers who owned that tavern lost their liquor license. I found out later they were both World War II veterans with families. They worked and saved for 15 years, and then borrowed in order to buy that little tavern. They were doing just great until this happened. They lost their business and will probably lose their homes. And it's all my fault because I had to have a drink before I reached the legal age to buy one.

ASHAMED
DEAR ABBY: If this didn't happen to me I would never have believed it. My mother called me long distance last night around midnight. (I am 29, self-supporting and live out of state.) Mother said she had been receiving strong "vibrations" all evening about me, and she just had to call to see if everything was all right.

Well, an hour before mother called, the man with whom I had been keeping steady company for four years proposed to me! We were sitting there debating whether to call Mother and tell her the news. Now, how do you account for that?

"MYSTIFIED"
DEAR MYSTIFIED: If you are asking me whether your mother's "vibrations" could have been attributed to extra sensory perception—yes, they could. (And also to her woman's intuition, and possibly a mother's wishful thinking.)

Why is this so? She agreed that America places greater emphasis on the glories of youth. The diet seems to favor Americans as well, the more varied meals being easier on the figure than the Italians' pasta—"though you have plenty of fat people in this country, too."

"That is important," she insisted. "The American man continues to take part in sports well after 40. The Italian man is also interested in sports, but he is content to watch instead of play after he has reached 40."

Local Baha'i Group Lists Weekly Thought

A World Bible, entitled the "Baha'i World Faith," offers the student of religion a compilation of Baha'i Sacred Writings, disclosing their universal range of themes, their direct application to modern life, and their incomparable spiritual power. The "Baha'i World Faith" reveals for men of all races and lands a new creation which affirms and fulfills the highest assurance which, from age to age, the succession of Prophets have enkindled within the human soul.

The past is not denied but extended through the present to establish a firm foundation for a new era of justice and peace. The Baha'i illumination cast upon our own age, indeed, reveals the former religions and their Founders in a clearer light than they have ever been manifested before. The Baha'i concept of the unity of the Prophets of God bans the practice of religion as creed and ceremony but resurrects faith in realization of one eternal divine Truth which now, for the first time, can be comprehended in its plan and purpose for the human race.

Suggested additional reading in the Christian "Holy Bible": Revelation 20:12; 21:1-5; Acts 17:24-26, 29-31; Romans 6:1-5, 13; Hebrews 9:1-10; 9:23-28; 10:8-9, 16-18; Jeremiah 4:1-2; Hebrews 10:35-39; Matthew 5:17.

India's Fire Worshipers Include Nation's Leaders

BOMBAY, India (AP) — Descendants of a small, close-knit band of fire worshipers who sought refuge in India 1,200 years ago, include some of India's leading businessmen, politicians and civic workers.

They are members of the Parsi sect, believed to number about 150,000 throughout the world, with the major body of at least 75,000 in Bombay.

Their forefathers migrated to India from Persia in the year 706 A.D., following the conquest of their country by Moslems.

Parsis—also spelled Parsees—are followers of Zoroaster, founder of the original Persian religion. They believe in afterlife and the ultimate victory of good over evil. Their temples house sacred perpetual flames, kept alive with offerings of aromatic sandalwood.

Prominent among present-day Parsis are the Tatas, who started India's first textile mill and now are national leaders in textiles, steel, nuclear research and scores of other fields. An air service started as a Tata subsidiary later became Air India, the country's international airline.

Other Parsis include M. R. Masani, prominent member of Parliament, and K.R.P. Shroff, who retired this year as president of the Bombay Stock Exchange.

Geroze Gandhi, late husband of Prime Minister Indira Gandhi, was a Parsi; and Parsi Dhadaboi Nadroji was the first Indian member of the British Parliament.

To the outsider, the Parsis are perhaps best known for their "Tower of Silence," an imposing mountaintop structure in Bombay where the Parsi dead are taken. Aside from its beautifully landscaped gardens and iron gates which keep out non-believers, the tower is distinguished by an ever-present flock of vultures soaring overhead.

The tower has walls 18 feet tall surrounding a circular concrete platform 300 feet in circumference and with a deep opening in the center. The platform has three rows for bodies, the outer one for men, middle for women and center for children.

After the vultures strip the flesh and the bones disintegrate, rainfall washes the dust into the center shaft and then into four underground drains leading to four deep wells. Charcoal and sandstone in the drains purify the water before it reaches the wells.

"In the old days, a body was taken to the highest hill and left to be 'burned' by the sun," says Rustom K. Masani, noted Parsi author, in explaining how the Tower of Silence fits in with the Parsi fire worship.

Masani emphasizes the living aspects of the Parsi religion. In fact, he says "I call our religion the religion of 'good life.'"

"We have no penance, no fasting, we are concerned only with building our character. Most of the charitable institutions in Bombay were founded by Parsis."

Excavators Work Around Parked Car

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Jose Torres decided to take a chance and park his car in a lot with a "no parking" sign. When he returned he found that workmen had excavated the lot and left his car on a pedestal of pavement. Torres built a small ramp and drove away.

AN ETERNAL FORCE

The wind is like the power of God.

It is invisible — you can neither see nor touch it. And yet it will carry a sailboat skimming across the waves with all the beauty and grace and freedom of a seagull.

But whereas the wind may die and leave you drifting aimlessly and helplessly with the tide, the strength of God remains eternally steadfast.

It is through the Church that man is given understanding of this Power. For by worshipping God he can acquire the spiritual insight which gives fuel to his soul and purpose for his pursuits.

Speaking Truthfully

WITHOUT TRUTH MAN IS NEITHER GOOD NOR GODLY

Scripture—Exodus 20:16; Proverbs 26:18-28; Matthew 12:35-37; Ephesians 4:15, 25, 29-31.

By R. H. RAMSEY

"THOU shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor" is probably the most frequently broken of the Ten Commandments, for lying's lesser forms are so easily indulged in that many do not consider them violations of God's law.

What is false witness? The law implies much more than it says. It is deliberate perjury under oath, of course. It is also gossip, slander, cowardly silence, half-truths, white lies, over-emphasis of some facts while withholding others, ridicule, purposeful deception through false phrases and sentences out of context. In short, any careless handling of the truth, whether by an individual, nation, organization or political movement, constitutes a violation of the ninth commandment.

Sometimes the sins of our tongues, though more subtle, are ultimately more damaging than the sins of our deeds.

In recent years we have witnessed the devastating effects of false witness. Thanks to the McCarthy-Cohen-Schine cabal, the John Birch Society, and otherly, who give ready utterance and free circulation to calumnies, suspicions and insinuations, who propagate false charges, or true ones in a bitter, envious or malignant spirit; the reviler, the backbiter, the whisperer, the reckless abusive partisan, the inventor and publisher of bad names and injurious rumors—all stand condemned by the ninth commandment.

In the New Testament we find Jesus likening idle words to the corrupt fruit of a corrupt tree, and warning of the ultimate consequences of the ideal or untruthful words: "by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned."

Without the saving grace of God, lying and deceit always lead to ruin. Witness the case of Peter. In the closing days of our Lord's life, Peter chewed up the scenery with declarations of loyalty and fidelity. Yet when Jesus was arrested, Peter found his words empty. He denied the Lord and fled. It took our Savior's grace and prayers to bring Peter to the point where he recognized his weakness and dealt with it resolutely.

GOLDEN TEXT

"Wherefore putting away lying, speak every man truth with his neighbor: for we are members one of another."—Ephesians 4:25.

ers of that ilk, "Commie," "Red," "Pinkie" and "fellow traveler" have become fear-inducing household words, epithets to be liberally applied to any and all who disagree or fail to conform with the status quo, the mores, the ideology of the American middle-class. We have been conditioned to suspect everyone, no matter what their station. Smeared campaigns abound; blacklists are the result. Hundreds of people have lost their reputations, their livelihood, their friends, their homes as the result of a smug, self-righteous disregard for truth.

Another case in point, as illustrated by the passage from Proverbs, is the common gossip, the talebearer. Whispered innuendoes, malicious hints, slanders, words are his stock in trade. Through the gossip never goes unpunished, he brings untold ruin and calamity upon others before the Lord's vengeance falls upon him. And when a gossip is confronted by his false witness, he often excuses himself as "only kidding." A lie is no less a lie because it is "kidding." Persons who speak uncharitably, maliciously, based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Divisions of Christian Education, National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., and used by permission.

When the Apostle Paul wrote to the Ephesian Christians he warned of certain faults and weaknesses that impair Christian character. He exhorted men to forgo their childish ways (which is different from the child-likeness advocated by Christ), and become mature in thought and action, to put away falsehood and speak the truth with love.

Our words can be for good or evil and Paul encourages us to use only those in harmony with the Holy Spirit within us, which will build up our hearers. Bitterness, wrath, anger, loud and boisterous recriminations, character assassination, malice are to be put away. In their place: truth spoken with love.

When a Christian, by words or deed, lives or speaks contrary to the will of God, the example of Christ and the leading of the Holy Spirit, he cannot grow spiritually nor contribute to the well-being of the Christian community.

Certainly there is no better way to live than to hold truth in high regard and speak it always "in love."

Medicare May Boost Private Patients' Bills

CHICAGO (AP) — With doctors' fees and hospital charges on the rise, private patients in some hospitals are facing the possibility that a Medicare cost squeeze could develop to boost their bills still higher.

A cost-squeeze showing hasn't developed yet, with the Medicare program only two months old, but officials attending the annual meeting of the American Hospital Association indicated in interviews and speeches that it might.

Dr. Philip D. Bonnet of Boston, immediate past president of the AHA, predicted nurses' strikes for higher pay in various parts of the country, prospective wage boosts for other hospital employees, minimum wage legislation and unemployment compensation coverage could boost patient fees by as much as 25 per cent in the next year.

Hospital rates went up 7.7 per cent in the last 12 months while physicians' fees went up 5.7 per cent.

Robert M. Ball, Social Security commissioner, said the one-millionth Medicare patient is expected to be admitted to one of the nation's hospitals next week but the costs and government reimbursement features of the program still are under study.

Ball told the hospital administrators, however, that the government's formula for reimbursing hospitals for "keeping abreast of the times" would be re-evaluated promptly as experience is gained under the program.

A major issue is the current formula under which the government pays hospitals operating under Medicare 2 per cent of their operating budget as a cost-plus feature. Such funds, for example, would be used to train personnel to operate a kidney machine or other technical equipment which could become obsolete in a few years.

The new AHA president, George E. Cartmill, president of Harper Hospital, Detroit, said in an interview:

"We feel we could live with the 2 per cent formula but too many factors have been knocked out. We believe it will be shown that hospitals have been losing money. If the reimbursement is insufficient to cover costs, hospitals will have no alternative but to raise their bills to cover these additional costs."

He said Blue Cross and other health insurance policies would be hiked in such event.

AHA spokesmen take the position that costs uncovered for Medicare patients should not have to be passed on to patients footing their own medical bills.

Weekly Food Review

NEW YORK (AP) — After a long, hot summer there is good news for Labor Day weekend food shoppers.

Food prices eased slightly this week after a summer-long march upward.

Stores have stocked up on beef for specials. More abundant supplies and slow demand have combined to push pork prices down, too.

Beef prices are expected to rise with cooler weather and back-to-school demand. The only thing holding them down will be larger supplies of pork, chicken and turkeys.

The most substantial price reduction probably will be for pork, reflecting increased supplies. Bacon, ham and pork chops will be featured in markets across the nation in the months ahead.

The only bad news for the holiday is in the butter and egg department. Butter is up one cent a pound this week on the West Coast and 2 cents in the New York area. Eggs are up 2 cents a dozen around New York.

Speaking Truthfully

WITHOUT TRUTH MAN IS NEITHER GOOD NOR GODLY

Scripture—Exodus 20:16; Proverbs 26:18-28; Matthew 12:33-37; Ephesians 4:25, 28, 29-31.

By R. H. RAMSEY
"THOU shalt not bear false witness against thy neighbor" is probably the most frequently broken of the Ten Commandments, for lying's lesser forms are so easily indulged in that many do not consider them violations of God's law.

What is false witness? The law implies more than it says. It is deliberate perjury under oath, of course. It is also gossip, slander, cowardly silence, half-truths, white lies, over-emphasis of some facts while withholding others, ridicule, purposeful deception through false, misleading advertising or lifting phrases and sentences out of context. In short, any careless handling of the truth, whether by an individual, nation, organization or political movement, constitutes a violation of the ninth commandment.

Sometimes the sins of our tongues, though more subtle, are ultimately more damaging than the sins of our deeds. In recent years we have witnessed the devastating effects of false witness. Thanks to the McCarthy-Cohen-Schnebach, the John Birch Society, and other slandrously, who give ready utterance and free circulation to calumnies, suspicions and insinuations, who propagate false charges, or true ones in a bitter, envious or malignant spirit; the reviler, the backbiter, the whisperer, the reckless abusive partisan, the inventor and publisher of bad names and injurious rumors—all stand condemned by the ninth commandment.

In the New Testament we find Jesus likening idle words to the corrupt fruit of a corrupt tree, and warning of the ultimate consequences of our ideal or untruthful words: "by thy words thou shalt be justified, and by thy words thou shalt be condemned." Without the saving grace of God, lying and deceit always lead to ruin. Witness the case of Peter. In the closing days of our Lord's life, Peter chewed up the scenery with declarations of loyalty and fidelity. Yet when Jesus was arrested, Peter found his words empty. He denied the Lord and fled. It took our Savior's grace and prayers to bring Peter to the point where he recognized his weakness and dealt with it resolutely.

GOLDEN TEXT

"Wherefore putting away lying, speak every man truth with his neighbor: for we are members one of another."—Ephesians 4:25.

ers of that ilk. "Commie," "Red," "Pinky" and "fellow-traveler" have become fear-inducing household words, epithets to be liberally applied to any and all who disagree or fail to conform with the status quo, the mores, the ideology of the American middle-class. We have been conditioned to suspect everyone, no matter what their station. Smeared campaigns abound; blacklists are the result. Hundreds of people have lost their reputations, their livelihood, their friends, their homes as the result of a smug, self-righteous disregard for truth.

Another case in point, as illustrated by the passage from Proverbs, is the common gossip, the talebearer. The whispered innuendoes, malicious hints, slanders, our words are his stock in trade. Though the gossip never goes unpunished, he brings untold ruin and calamity upon others before the Lord's vengeance falls upon him. And when a gossip is confronted by his false witness, he often excuses himself as "only kidding."

A lie is no less a lie because it is "kidding." Persons who speak uncharitably, maliciously, based on copyrighted outlines produced by the Divisions of Christian Education, National Council of Churches of Christ in the U.S.A., and used by permission.

When the Apostle Paul wrote to the Ephesian Christians he warned of certain faults and weaknesses that impair Christian character. He exhorted men to forgo their childish ways (which is different from the child-likeness advocated by Christ), and become mature in thought and action, to put away falsehood and speak the truth with love.

Our words can be for good or evil and Paul encourages us to use only those in harmony with the Holy Spirit within us, which will build up our hearers. Bitterness, wrath, anger, loud and boisterous recriminations, character assassination, malice are to be put away. In their place: truth spoken with love.

When a Christian, by words or deed, lives or speaks contrary to the will of God, the example of Christ and the leading of the Holy Spirit, he cannot grow spiritually nor contribute to the well-being of the Christian community.

Certainly there is no better way to live than to hold truth in high regard and speak it always "in love."

Medicare May Boost Private Patients' Bills

CHICAGO (AP) — With doctors' fees and hospital charges on the rise, private patients in some hospitals are facing the possibility that a Medicare cost squeeze could develop to boost their bills still higher.

A cost-squeeze showing hasn't developed yet, with the Medicare program only two months old, but officials attending the annual meeting of the American Hospital Association indicated in interviews and speeches that it might.

Dr. Philip D. Bonnet of Boston, immediate past president of the AHA, predicted nurses' strikes for higher pay in various parts of the country, prospective wage boosts for other hospital employees, minimum wage legislation and unemployment compensation coverage could boost patient fees by as much as 25 per cent in the next year.

Hospital rates went up 7.7 per cent in the last 12 months while physicians' fees went up 5.7 per cent.

Robert M. Ball, Social Security commissioner, said the one-millionth Medicare patient is expected to be admitted to one of the nation's hospitals next week but the costs and government reimbursement features of the program still are under study.

Ball told the hospital administrators, however, that the government's formula for reimbursing hospitals for "keeping abreast of the times" would be re-evaluated promptly as experience is gained under the program.

A major issue is the current formula under which the government pays hospitals operating under Medicare 2 per cent of their operating budget as a cost-plus feature. Such funds, for example, would be used to train personnel to operate a kidney machine or other technical equipment which could become obsolete in a few years.

The new AHA president, George E. Cartmill, president of Harper Hospital, Detroit, said in an interview:

"We feel we could live with the 2 per cent formula but too many factors have been knocked out. We believe it will be shown that hospitals have been losing money. If the reimbursement is insufficient to cover costs, hospitals will have no alternative but to raise their bills to cover these additional costs."

He said Blue Cross and other health insurance policies would be hiked in such event.

AHA spokesmen take the position that costs uncovered for Medicare patients should not have to be passed on to patients footing their own medical bills.

Siebert Fires 5-Hitter Past Oriole Crew

Cleveland Hurler Whips AL Leaders For Fourth Time

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS When Sonny Siebert is on the fly the Baby Birds don't get off the ground.

Siebert continued his mastery over Baltimore's young pitching stars Thursday night, firing a five-hitter as the Cleveland Indians whipped the American League leaders 4-1.

The 29-year-old right-hander, author of the only no-hitter in the majors this season, out-pitched rookie ace Jim Palmer for his 15th victory — and fourth in five meetings with the Orioles.

He has beaten Palmer—a 14-game winner himself — two times and also has topped rookie Eddie Watt and second-year man Wally Bunker since losing to Palmer last May 8 in his first start against the Orioles.

But Siebert has been up-and-down against the rest of the league since June 11, when he flipped his no-hitter against Washington and said: "It's like you're flying, like you're way up there in the clouds."

Until Thursday night, Siebert had failed to finish eight straight starts since July 25. He has won his last three decisions, however, and is only one victory short of his 1965 total.

Baltimore's fifth setback in six games, coupled with Detroit's 7-5, 10-inning victory over Chicago, left the Orioles 11 games ahead of the second-place Tigers. The New York Yankees trimmed California 5-2 in the only other game scheduled.

Los Angeles nipped Pittsburgh 4-3, New York shaded San Francisco 2-3, Chicago trampled Cincinnati 11-3, St. Louis beat Atlanta 7-4 and Philadelphia downed Houston 3-1 in National League games.

Frank Robinson, who had clipped Siebert for four homers in their last two meetings, drove in the Orioles' run with a third-inning double and also singled, lifting his league-leading batting mark to .320. Otherwise, Siebert was in command, retiring 9 of the last 21 men he faced.

Teays Sports Assignments Announced

Coaching assignments at Teays Valley High School have been announced by Benis Lutz, executive head of the district.

Russ Gregg is athletic director. In addition, Gregg will be head basketball, baseball and cross country coach.

Marion Waits is head football and track coach.

Grid assistants are Jack Welkert, Neil Whipkey, James McCord is freshman basketball coach. John Drummond is reserve basketball mentor and freshmen baseball coach. Welkert is freshman cage mentor, and Whipkey will assist Waits with the track team.

Anne Collins is in charge of girls' athletics.

The only coaching position not filled is golf, according to Lutz.

Mann Sets Pace In Women's Test

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Carol Mann complained she was playing too much golf and was tired.

So the 6-foot-3 blonde from Towson, Md., went out Thursday and shot a torrid four-under-par 69 to take the first-round lead in the 36-hole Ladies' World Series of Golf.

Miss Mann, a contestant by virtue of her third-place standing on the money list, had little breathing room. She held a one-stroke advantage over a pair of Texans, Sandra Haynie of Fort Worth and Mickey Wright of Dallas.

Still in contention was Kathy Whitworth, the Titleholders champion from San Antonio, Tex., who shot even par 72.

Palmer Says Arnie's Army Puts on Too Much Pressure

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — One of the big reasons for Arnold Palmer's golf slump could be that he is trying too hard.

He is the only golfer on the tour with his own private army, Arnie's Army, one of the most vociferous and aggressive fan clubs in sports. Palmer knows it, and he tries his hardest to live up to their hero worship.

"They expect me to play well," the game's all-time leading money winner said recently in reviewing his mounting list of problems. "When I don't, I naturally feel I have let them down. So the next time I go out and try all the harder. The pressure just builds up."

Arnie's performances over the last couple of years have been a keen disappointment, but the allegiance of Arnie's Army apparently has been unshaken.

"When I go home after a tournament, there will be hundreds of letters," he said. "If I've had a bad tournament — and I've had a few lately — the letters are 99 per cent encouraging."

"Those who write tell me not to worry, everything will be all right. Some exhort me to go get 'em — just as they do out on the course. Others give me advice."

Arnie hasn't won a major crown now since the Masters of 1964. In the past two years, he has won only four tournaments. The low spot in his fabulous career was reached in June when he blew a seven-stroke lead over the last nine holes and lost by four shots in a playoff with Bill Casper for the National Open Championship at San Francisco.

Some contend that this may prove a psychological blow from which Palmer will never recover.

The onetime charger, renowned for his miracle birdie finishes in the early 1960s, shot a 77 on the last round of the Insurance City Open at Wethersfield Conn., nearly two weeks ago and last week skied to a last-round 74 after tying for the lead in the Philadelphia Classic.

Is Palmer the victim of last-round jitters? "I don't think so," Arnie insists. "I was disappointed that I didn't win at San Francisco, and it still bugs me a little that I lost as I did, but I don't intend to let it saturate my life."

Palmer said he now plans a month's rest and practice to regain the proper frame of mind. At the end of that time, he thinks he will be ready to make another strong bid at the major championships, with the professional grand slam still his No. 1 goal — that is, winning the Masters, PGA, British and U.S. Opens in a single year.

"I haven't given up on that," Palmer says. "I think it still can be done."

Palmer is 36, just a year older than Ben Hogan was when he won his first major title and four years younger than when Hogan won the Masters, British and U.S. Opens in 1955.

Fayette Sulky Stars Shine At State Fair

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — That hotbed of harness racing, Washington Court House, sent another big one to the winner's circle Thursday when Gay Sam won the $24,400 Governor's Cup Trot at the Ohio State Fair.

Gay Sam, winning the feature of the final fair harness race card, is owned by Sam J. Coil of the Fayette County city.

Joe Lighthill drove the 3-year-old colt which won the first division in 2:06 3-5, then edged Blaze Hope—2:04 3-5 in winning the second division—by a neck in 2:04 1-5 in the decider. Blaze Hope's reinsman Bruce Nickells thus just missed driving the Governor's Cup winner a third straight year.

The $6,475 pace for 2-year-old fillies went to another horse from Washington Court House as Terrytime, owned by William Sullivan and John Highfield, won heats in 2:04 4-5 and 2:03 1-5.

Ladies Golf Champ Finale Due Sunday

Bette Fraser and Erma Hedges tee off 1 p. m. Sunday to determine the winner and runnerup in the Pickaway Country Club Ladies Championship.

In the finals of the consolation flight, Miriam Young defeated Lucille Wilson. Sue Spires won from Miriam Adkins in a sudden death playoff in the 9-hole flight.

Trophies for all men's and ladies' tournament winners will be awarded Labor Day afternoon at PCC.

The Twilight Golf League is sponsoring a carry-in fete on the patio of the clubhouse. A golf bag and set of clubs will be awarded at that time.

IN LADIES day activities Thursday, Ruth Athey and Mary Lou Sculley tied for the most net 3s. Lucille Wilson and Hester Weldon had the most net 4s, Betty Young and Miriam Adkins tied for third place with the most net 5's.

Mary Lou Sulley's 46 was her best ever round. Ruth Athey's 46 was her best of the year. On Wednesday, Jan McKelvey shot a 42-44—86 for her best ever score.

Ex-Champion Beman Leads U.S. Amateur

ARDMORE, Pa. (AP) — Dean Beman carried a four-stroke lead into the third round of the National Amateur Golf Championship today but the 28-year-old insurance executive said he doesn't intend to sit on it.

"I'm going to attack this course," he said Thursday after firing a three-under-par 67 over the tricky Merion Golf Club layout for a 36-hole total of 133—only subpar card in the field.

"I'm going to play as if I'm two strokes behind. I don't know how to play any other way."

Closest to Beman, a two-time National Amateur champion, as the final field of 60 left the tees today—were Roger McManus, a 42-year-old rug salesman from Hartsville, Ohio, and Jack W. Lewis Jr., a 19-year-old from Florence, S.C. They had 36-hole totals of 142.

McManus shot a 73 Thursday after twice being on the verge of blowing up. Lewis scored a 69, and said he was going to have a steak dinner and then get 10 to 12 hours sleep before today's round.

Entries Accepted for Jaycee Cox Memorial Golf Tourney

The Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce is accepting entries for the second annual Omar Wayne Cox Memorial Open Golf Tournament to be held at Upper Lansdowne Golf Links Sept. 11.

Jerry Leist, chairman of the tourney, is expecting golfers from Circleville, Waverly, Chillicothe, Portsmouth, Lancaster, Groveport, Grove City, Columbus, Hillsboro and Washington C. H.

The day will include 18 holes of tournament golf, plenty of food and refreshments, according to Leist.

The 18-hole amateur tournament will give 18 trophies in three classes, and trophies for low net and low gross scores.

THE TOURNAMENT is in memory of Omar Wayne Cox who died during World War II. His brothers and sisters are golf enthusiasts and are trying to promote the game through this tournament.

His brother, Garner, is a member at Upper Lansdowne where he won the first club championship. He also was the first winner in the Cox tourney.

Sophomore outfielder Ted Nixon led Dartmouth's hitters this spring with a .324 batting average.

Columbus Clings To Lead in IL

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS The Columbus Jets flew home today with just-visible one percentage point lead over Rochester in the superheated International League race.

The Jets hung on to their hair-thin leading margin by dumping Jacksonville, 8-4.

In other IL action, Rochester, still breathing down the Jets' necks, remained right behind Columbus by claiming a 7-4 victory over Buffalo's Bisons.

And only one-half game off the pace is Toronto who downed Syracuse 5-2 while Toledo rolled past Richmond, 4-1.

TV Graduate Candidate at Bowling Green

Dave Reese, a graduate of Teays Valley High School where he played quarterback and linebacker, has returned to Bowling Green University for fall football practice.

Reese is attending BGSU on a provisional athletic scholarship.

A sophomore, the 6-foot-1, 210-pound TV grad is slated to play right linebacker behind Joe Siesel, a Bowling Green senior who earned an honorable mention nod when the All-Mid American team was named last season.

The Falcon coaching staff feels Reese should see plenty of action with Bowling Green's 1966 defensive platoon. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Barney Reese, Ashville.

Siebert Fires 5-Hitter Past Oriole Crew

Cleveland Hurler Whips AL Leaders For Fourth Time

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS When Sonny Siebert is on the fly the Baby Birds don't get off the ground.

Siebert continued his mastery over Baltimore's young pitching stars Thursday night, firing a five-hitter as the Cleveland Indians whipped the American League leaders 4-1.

The 29-year-old right-hander, author of the only no-hitter in the majors this season, out-pitched rookie ace Jim Palmer for his 15th victory — and fourth in five meetings with the Orioles.

He has beaten Palmer—a 14-game winner himself — two times and also has topped rookie Eddie Watt and second-year man Wally Bunker since losing to Palmer last May 8 in his first start against the Orioles.

But Siebert has been up-and-down against the rest of the league since June 11, when he flipped his no-hitter against Washington and said: "It's like you're flying, like you're way up there in the clouds."

Until Thursday night, Siebert had failed to finish eight straight starts since July 25. He has won his last three decisions, however, and is only one victory short of his 1965 total.

Baltimore's fifth setback in six games, coupled with Detroit's 7-5, 10-inning victory over Chicago, left the Orioles 11 games ahead of the second-place Tigers. The New York Yankees trimmed California 5-2 in the only other game scheduled.

Los Angeles nipped Pittsburgh 4-3, New York shaded San Francisco 2-3, Chicago trampled Cincinnati 11-3, St. Louis beat Atlanta 7-4 and Philadelphia downed Houston 3-1 in National League games.

Frank Robinson, who had clipped Siebert for four homers in their last two meetings, drove in the Orioles' run with a third-inning double and also singled, lifting his league-leading batting mark to .320. Otherwise, Siebert was in command, retiring 9 of the last 21 men he faced.

Teays Sports Assignments Announced

Coaching assignments at Teays Valley High School have been announced by Benis Lutz, executive head of the district.

Russ Gregg is athletic director. In addition, Gregg will be head basketball, baseball and cross country coach.

Marion Waits is head football and track coach.

Grid assistants are Jack Weikert, Neil Whipkey. James McCord is freshman basketball coach. John Drummond is reserve basketball mentor and freshmen baseball coach. Weikert is freshman cage mentor, and Whipkey will assist Waits with the track team.

Anne Collins is in charge of girls' athletics.

The only coaching position not filled is golf, according to Lutz.

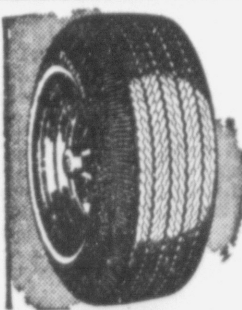

Mann Sets Pace In Women's Test

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Carol Mann complained she was playing too much golf and was tired.

So the 6-foot-3 blonde from Towson, Md., went out Thursday and shot a torrid four-under-par 69 to take the first-round lead in the 36-hole Ladies' World Series of Golf.

Miss Mann, a contestant by virtue of her third-place standing on the money list, had little breathing room. She held a one-stroke advantage over a pair of Texans, Sandra Haynie of Fort Worth and Mickey Wright of Dallas.

Still in contention was Kathy Whitworth, the Titleholders champion from San Antonio, Tex., who shot even par 72.

Palmer Says Arnie's Army Puts on Too Much Pressure

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — One of the big reasons for Arnold Palmer's golf slump could be that he is trying too hard.

He is the only golfer on the tour with his own private army, Arnie's Army, one of the most vociferous and aggressive fan clubs in sports. Palmer knows it, and he tries his hardest to live up to their hero worship.

"They expect me to play well," the game's all-time leading money winner said recently in reviewing his mounting list of problems. "When I don't, I naturally feel I have let them down. So the next time I go out and try all the harder. The pressure just builds up."

Pro Football Is Boon to Business

By SALLY RYAN
AP Business News Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The opening of the National Football League schedule is a week away, but the campaign already is on in the nation's department stores, supermarkets and sporting goods shops.

Everything from raincoats to litterbags is carrying an NFL tag.

Business is investing millions of dollars to promote products as the kind the big boys use.

You can shed your NFL pajamas in the morning, don an NFL shirt, slacks, tie, boots, blazer and cap embroidered with a Los Angeles Rams or a Minnesota Vikings symbol.

You can drive to the game in an automobile bearing Atlanta

Falcons or Philadelphia Eagles tags, sit on a New York Giants stadium cushion with matching poncho, wrap yourself in a Green Bay Packers blanket and light a cigarette with a Washington Redskins lighter.

At home you can decorate with a Dallas Cowboys lamp, a St. Louis Cardinals wall plaque and a Pittsburgh Steelers clock, open a drink with a Chicago Bears bottle opener, pour it into a Baltimore Colts pewter tankard or a Detroit Lions insulated cup.

You can sleep on a Falcons mattress, eat off a Cleveland Browns place mat, put your money in a San Francisco 49er bank, play your choice of NFL electric football games and collect NFL dolls—the ones with the bobbing heads.

It has become such a big business that the NFL has set up a merchandising and promotional arm, National Football League Properties, Inc., to handle it.

In 1963, its first year, NFL properties grossed about $150,000 from royalties and license fees. This year it expects about $600,000, about enough to buy a quarterback. It will be divided equally among the 15 NFL clubs.

The American Football League has similar arrangements.

There currently are 66 active NFL licensees, who pay a 5 per cent royalty on the net selling price of their products.

Seven food manufacturers joined this fall in what is billed as the largest single food promotion ever put together involving more than one company, pushing "1966 Official Training Table Foods."

Larry Kent, president of NFL properties, estimates the food companies will spend $12 million on the project.

AFL Season Play Due for Start

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League still is playing exhibition games but the American Football League gets down to serious work this weekend with a three-game opening program.

In the old days the pro clubs would just be going to training camp on Labor Day. Now they start in early July and keep going until mid-January.

The big game of the opening weekend is Buffalo at San Diego, the two clubs expected to fight it out again for the AFL title.

Sid Gilman is said to have posted in his office a headline from a newspaper after the 1965 title game. It reads: "Kemp, Bills Humble Chargers, 2-0."

If Sid has his way, the Chargers will come out in a vengeful mood. However, San Diego has been hot and cold, as usual, bombing Miami and Boston in exhibitions but losing to Oakland and Kansas City. The John Hadl-Lance Alworth combo is the key.

Buffalo has a 3-1 exhibition record, losing only to the New York Jets last week. Joe Collier, successor to Lou Saban, is anxious to get off on the right foot.

The opening program has one game each on Friday night, Saturday night and Sunday afternoon. New York, Boston and Kansas City have byes.

The National Football League does not open until next weekend.

Here are the week's picks:

Friday Night

Oakland 28, Miami 7 — The Dolphins are still struggling to find the answers and are not ready to handle a strong contender like the Raiders. Oakland started to click against Denver last week and should handle Miami, the expansion team, with ease.

Saturday Night

Houston 21, Denver 14 — Although both go into the opener with 1-0 exhibition records, Walley Lemm's "New Era" club at Houston should win. Denver beat Houston twice last year but this is a new season and big Ernie Ladd has joined the Oilers. George Blanda over the best the Broncos can offer.

Sunday Afternoon

San Diego 28, Buffalo 24 — Bills' tough defense let down against Jets last week and can't afford to do any coasting against the Chargers' explosive attack. With the big prize at the end of the season, a game with the NFL champ, both teams should be sharp and ready for this early meeting.

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF OHIO EASTERN DIVISION IN THE MATTER OF ELSIE MARIE METS AND FLOYD H. METS

IN BANKRUPTCY NO. 38927, 38928 NOTICE OF SALE TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

Pursuant to an order of the above entitled Court in bankruptcy, dated the 30th day of August, 1966, the undersigned as trustee of the property and estate of the bankrupts above named will offer for Public Sale at the Courthouse of Pickaway County, Ohio, Circleville, Ohio, at 2:00 P. M. September 15, 1966, the following described property:

A portion of the estate of bankrupt Floyd H. Mets consists of an undivided interest in four (4) parcels of land in fee simple absolute in and to the following described premises:

TRACT 1. Situated in the Village of Ashville, County of Pickaway and State of Ohio:

Beginning at a stone in the Lockbourne and Ashville Turnpike and half section line, the S. W. corner of the N. E. Quarter of Section 12; thence N. 2 3/4 deg. E. with said pike and half section line 71 poles and 20 links to a stone in the center of the old Federal Road and beginning of the survey; Beginning at a stone in said pike and road, thence S. 88-3-4 deg. E. 10 poles and 7 links to a stone in said road; thence S. 2-3-4 deg. W. with D. Mangus' West line poles and 18-7 links to a stone; thence N. 88-3-4 deg. W. 18 poles and 7 links to a stone in said pike and half section line; thence with said pike and half section line N. 2-3-4 deg. E. 3 poles and 18-7 links to the place of beginning, containing one acre of land, more or less. Being a part of the N. E. Quarter of Section 12, Range 22, Township 2 M.S.

EXCEPTING 80 feet off of the East side of said one acre tract conveyed to Ralph A. Mets and Wilma J. Mets by Deed dated April 16, 1962, and recorded in Deed Book 173, Page 201, Pickaway County Records. For prior deed see Deed Book 133 Page 304.

TRACT 2. Situated in the City of Circleville, County of Pickaway and State of Ohio, according to the record of the same, and being situated in the City of Circleville, Pickaway County, Ohio. For prior deed see Deed Book 172, Page 467.

A portion of said bankrupts estate consists of their equity in a certain Land Contract whereby Floyd H. Mets and Elsie Marie Mets are purchasing for $3,000.00, 109, 110 and 111 in Block D, Brintlinger's Proposed Addition to the Village of Ashville, Ohio, that the contract purchase price was $3,435.79 and the balance due thereon by bankrupts as of May 9, 1966, was $2,016.05.

Said sale will be conducted by Rolland Featheringham, as auctioneer, to the highest and best bidder for cash or certified check for each individual item of such property; high bids accepted must be accompanied by down payment of 100 per cent of amount bid, otherwise the property will be re-offered for sale, and all property will be offered for sale and sold subject to valid liens, for taxes or otherwise, which may exist against it, to the extent of the right, title and interest that the bankrupt had, and the undersigned trustee now has in the same.

(PERSONAL PROPERTY) The undersigned, as trustee in the above named bankrupts, has been further authorized by the above mentioned Court to sell certain property of said bankrupts at private sale to the highest and best bidder for cash. Said personal property being described as follows:

weekend is Buffalo at San Diego, the two clubs expected to fight it out again for the AFL title.

Sid Gilman is said to have posted in his office a headline from a newspaper after the 1965 title game. It reads: "Kemp, Bills Humble Chargers, 2-0."

If Sid has his way, the Chargers will come out in a vengeful mood. However, San Diego has been hot and cold, as usual, bombing Miami and Boston in exhibitions but losing to Oakland and Kansas City. The John Hadl-Lance Alworth combo is the key.

Buffalo has a 3-1 exhibition record, losing only to the New York Jets last week. Joe Collier, successor to Lou Saban, is anxious to get off on the right foot.

The opening program has one game each on Friday night, Saturday night and Sunday afternoon. New York, Boston and Kansas City have byes.

The National Football League does not open until next weekend.

Here are the week's picks:

Friday Night
Oakland 28, Miami 7 — The Dolphins are still struggling to find the answers and are not ready to handle a strong contender like the Raiders. Oakland started to click against Denver last week and should handle Miami, the expansion team, with ease.

Saturday Night
Houston 21, Denver 14 — Although both go into the opener with 1-0 exhibition records, Walley Lemm's "New Era" club at Houston should win. Denver beat Houston twice last year but this is a new season and big Ernie Ladd has joined the Oilers. George Blanda over the best the Broncos can offer.

Sunday Afternoon
San Diego 28, Buffalo 24 — Bills' tough defense let down against Jets last week and can't afford to do any coasting against the Chargers' explosive attack. With the big prize at the end of the season, a game with the NFL champ, both teams should be sharp and ready for this early meeting.

Dayton To Protect LBJ As Lancasterite Gripes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Dayton's mayor says President Johnson should be safe there on his Labor Day visit to Ohio.

Meanwhile, a Lancaster ex-mayor is grumbling over the President's upcoming visit to that city.

On the heels of Johnson's official announcement Thursday that he would make holiday speeches in the two Ohio communities, came comment from Mayor Dave Hall of Dayton and former Mayor Clarence Miller.

A major racial outbreak was at its height in Dayton when Johnson said he would fly to the Gem City after appearances in Detroit and Battle Creek, Mich., Monday.

Montgomery County Sheriff Bernard Keiter at Dayton promptly recommended that the Johnson visit be canceled.

"Unless the circumstances change drastically," the sheriff said, "I don't think the President should come into a place like this."

But with National Guard troops having helped police restore order later, Mayor Hall said he could see "no danger whatsoever" to the President.

A White House spokesman, meanwhile, said the President's Dayton plans are "very tentative . . . not firm at all."

Plans call for Johnson to arrive in Dayton between 3:30 and 4:30 p.m. EST to deliver his talk at the invitation of the Miami Valley AFL-CIO and the Dayton Building Trades Council.

His next speaking engagement would be made at Lancaster, probably about 6 p.m.

The Lancaster speech also is sponsored by labor group, the Lancaster Federation of Labor. The President is expected to put in a plug there for U.S. Rep. Walter Moeller in his Democratic re-election campaign against the Republican Miller.

Moeller said Thursday the President's likely topic would be economic development, particularly "the improvement in southeast Ohio — what has happened and what will happen in terms of federal assistance."

And that is what Hall Miller grumbling.

"Let us not have the results of local initiative and perseverance held over the heads of the citizens of the 10th District as a reward for supporting the Administration team," Miller said.

He figured that "the one benefit the 10th District might derive from the visit . . . would be the announcement of a large federal grant for the area," probably $2.7 million for the Wellston water and sewer system.

The water project, Miller noted, is the basis for creation of a new Ralston-Purina plant in Jackson County to employ up to 1,500.

"This makes the project far too vital to be handed out like a Labor Day present from Washington" with Moeller announcing it "while standing arm-in-arm with President Johnson," the GOP candidate said.

Phone Co. Manager Transferred

Robert Keatley, commercial manager of the Circleville district of General Telephone Co., has been promoted and transferred to district commercial manager at Athens.

Keatley, manager here since September of 1964, succeeds James Kimball who recently resigned to accept a position with Beasley & Mathews Inc., Athens.

As Athens commercial manager, Keatley will be responsible for all customer relations in 15 exchanges located in Athens, Fairfield, Hocking and Meigs counties. He will also supervise operations for the telephone company business offices in Athens, Pomeroy and Logan.

A native of Portsmouth, Keatley was graduated from Portsmouth High School in 1954 and attended Miami University. He is a member of the Circleville Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club.

KEATLEY has been associated with General Telephone since 1957. Starting as a commercial assistant in Portsmouth, he subsequently was promoted to commercial manager positions in Georgetown, Cadiz and Circleville.

He and his wife, Connie, and their three children Karen, Kimberlee and Kerry Lyn, plan to move to Athens in the near future. They presently reside at 1051 Georgia Road.

Nevada Chief Defends State Casino Policy

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Nevada has denied, in a report sent to President Johnson, that its casino money is going to the underworld — and has accused the Justice Department of harassment, betrayal and blackmail.

Gov. Grant Sawyer made the accusations after sending President Johnson a copy of a State Gaming Commission report critical of former Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The report, issued Thursday, denied any evidence of underworld rackets or hidden casino interests — but says the state might start watching counting rooms with closed-circuit television.

Sawyer said the Justice Department began an all-out investigation of Nevada casinos under Kennedy.

"Nevada was besieged by an onslaught of federal agencies, some of whom subjected the gaming industry and private citizens to what amounted to harassment," Sawyer said.

"The siege and harassment betrayed a mutual agreement of cooperation between the Justice Department and the state in the fight against the criminal syndicate."

The governor accused the Justice Department of "feeding unprovable and unverified" information to newspapers and magazines and said his "constitutes blackmail."

In New York, Kennedy acknowledged that an investigation of some Las Vegas casinos was started while he was attorney general. He said it was based upon "reliable information."

"That investigation was continuing when I left the Justice Department in 1964," Kennedy said, "and to the best of my knowledge, is still continuing."

There was no comment from the Justice Department. The state report, ending the gaming commission's first special investigation of Nevada gambling, declared:

Kennedy's office originally requested that 65 federal agents make a massive raid on Nevada casinos.

But this "unwarranted invasion of state jurisdiction was sidetracked" after Sawyer met with President John F. Kennedy.

(Sen. Kennedy said "President Kennedy was at no time in any way involved.")

Humphrey, Kennedy Plan Extensive Campaign Trips

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation gets a chance this fall to compare the stumping styles of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Both the vice president and the New York Democratic senator plan ambitious campaigning for fellow Democrats in this autumn's congressional election contests.

And they not only will cross each other's trails but may also find themselves standing side by side on some bunting-draped speaker's platform.

In fact, Humphrey told newsmen Thursday he had invited Kennedy to his home state of Minnesota to help Democratic candidates — and that he is going into Kennedy's New York.

Humphrey and Kennedy have been cast as likely rivals for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1972.

With recent public opinion polls indicating Kennedy is more popular with Democrats than Humphrey or President Johnson, Republican Richard M. Nixon has suggested Johnson might decide to dump Humphrey in 1968 and choose Kennedy as his running mate for added insurance.

Kennedy told newsmen Thursday he will support Johnson and Humphrey for re-election in 1968. Beyond that, Kennedy said, he would not speculate about his political future.

Humphrey said he didn't begrudge Kennedy his following, quipped he was just glad it was a Democrat who was so popular and enthused. "He can help in drawing big crowds."

Humphrey expects to draw some crowds this fall, too. He reportedly is getting more than a hundred invitations a day to fill speaking engagements.

Judy Ankrom Double Winner at Fair

Judy Ankrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ankrom, Route 1, piloted "Rick-A-Shay" from the Ankrom Stables to a first place win in the saddle pony 12.2 hands-and-under class at the Ohio State Fair.

Miss Ankrom also earned a first place ribbon at the fair earlier this week when she rode "Yankee Clipper" to victory in the parade pony 14.2 hands-and-under class.

He and the President are working out a concerted coast-to-coast speaking schedule.

The details of Johnson's plans haven't been disclosed.

But Humphrey's journeys will take him into some 38 states, from Massachusetts to California.

As additional campaign ammunition against the Republicans, the vice president has made television tapes with individual congressmen, senators and hopefuls, for showing to the voters.

In whipping around the country this fall, Humphrey figures his job will be to give the candidates more publicity exposure than they would get on their own, try to put a little zip in their local campaigns and give a little advice.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In this land of make believe and magic it is easy for the visitor to become confused about where reality leaves off and play-acting begins. The alternative is to conclude that everything here is like those streets in the studio back lots where there is nothing but air behind the impressive facades of the houses.

Take, for example, the matter of money in Hollywood. After a few weeks spent listening to casual talk of large sums, it almost seems that there are two classes of greenbacks. There are the kind that most of us work for, and there are the kinds that are shoveled out so generously to these talented creatures in the entertainment capital.

"I didn't really want to work in Vegas," a well-known but not really top-drawer singing star told this reporter casually. "It just didn't seem right, though, to turn down $60,000 for just two weeks work."

"Sure it's a nice house on a good Beverly Hills street," said the wife of a theatrical agent modestly. "But it needed some paint and repairs, so we were able to pick it up for only $200,000."

It has been widely circulated in the trade that the "Bonanza" stars, under contracts signed last year, receive $10,000 per episode, which is more than many families make in a year. In a normal season this could add up to some $300,000 per hero — not counting, of course, extra loots from guest shots on other shows, royalties on records and the rewards for appearances at state fairs and rodeos.

One of the trade papers recently headlined a story about a general cutback in top prices paid guest-stars in TV series. It appears the supply of available actors exceeds the demand.

Take-home pay of most stars is almost impossible to estimate. Most of them operate amid a welter of companies and corporations supervised by tax lawyers. It is known, however, that one star of a series that was canceled after a short run still managed to total an income well over $150,000 in the period.

It was recently estimated by a trade paper that a number of big TV personalities, including Sullivan, Lucille Ball, Garry Moore and Bob Hope actually hit close to the million-dollar mark most years.

Kennedy's office originally requested that 65 federal agents make a massive raid on Nevada casinos.

But this "unwarranted invasion of state jurisdiction was sidetracked" after Sawyer met with President John F. Kennedy.

(Sen. Kennedy said "President Kennedy was at no time in any way involved.")

Humphrey, Kennedy Plan Extensive Campaign Trips

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation gets a chance this fall to compare the stumping styles of Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

Both the vice president and the New York Democratic senator plan ambitious campaigning for fellow Democrats in this autumn's congressional election contests.

And they not only will cross each other's trails but may also find themselves standing side by side on some bunting-draped speaker's platform.

In fact, Humphrey told news- men Thursday he had invited Kennedy to his home state of Minnesota to help Democratic candidates — and that he is going into Kennedy's New York.

Humphrey and Kennedy have been cast as likely rivals for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1972.

With recent public opinion polls indicating Kennedy is more popular with Democrats than Humphrey or President Johnson, Republican Richard M. Nixon has suggested Johnson might decide to dump Humphrey in 1968 and choose Kennedy as his running mate for added insurance.

Kennedy told news- men Thursday he will support Johnson and Humphrey for re-election in 1968. Beyond that, Kennedy said, he would not speculate about his political future.

Humphrey said he didn't begrudge Kennedy his following, quipped he was just glad it was a Democrat who was so popular and enthused. "He can help in drawing big crowds." Humphrey expects to draw some crowds this fall, too. He reportedly is getting more than a hundred invitations a day to fill speaking engagements.

Judy Ankrom Double Winner at Fair

Judy Ankrom, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dale Ankrom, Route 1, piloted "Rick-A-Shay" from the Ankrom Stables to a first place win in the saddle pony 12.2 hands-and-under class at the Ohio State Fair.

Miss Ankrom also earned a first place ribbon at the fair earlier this week when she rode "Yankee Clipper" to victory in the parade pony 14.2 hands-and-under class.

He and the President are working out a concerted coast-to-coast speaking schedule.

The details of Johnson's plans haven't been disclosed.

But Humphrey's journeys will take him into some 38 states, from Massachusetts to California.

As additional campaign ammunition against the Republicans — the vice president has made television tapes with individual congressmen, senators and hopefuls, for showing to the voters.

In whipping around the country this fall, Humphrey figures his job will be to give the candidates more publicity exposure than they would get on their own, try to put a little zip in their local campaigns and give a little advice.

500 Firestone Aides Are Absent from Jobs

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Firestone Tire Rubber Co. was the victim of either a high rate of absenteeism or an unauthorized walkout Thursday.

One report from the company said as many as 500 skilled workers at various units of the Firestone installation had left the company and without stating a reason. A spokesman for Local 7, United Rubber Workers, said the employees were urged to return to their jobs.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In this land of make believe and magic it is easy for the visitor to become confused about where reality leaves off and play-acting begins. The alternative is to conclude that everything here is like those streets in the studio back lots where there is nothing but air behind the impressive facades of the houses.

Take, for example, the matter of money in Hollywood. After a few weeks spent listening to casual talk of large sums, it almost seems that there are two classes of greenbacks. There are the kind that most of us work for, and there are the kinds that are shoveled out so generously to these talented creatures in the entertainment capital.

"I didn't really want to work in Vegas," a well-known but not really top-drawer singing star told this reporter casually. "It just didn't seem right, though, to turn down $60,000 for just two weeks work."

"Sure it's a nice house on a good Beverly Hills street," said the wife of a theatrical agent modestly. "But it needed some paint and repairs, so we were able to pick it up for only $200,000."

It has been widely circulated in the trade that the "Bonanza" stars, under contracts signed last year, receive $10,000 per episode, which is more than many families make in a year. In a normal season this could add up to some $300,000 per hero — not counting, of course, extra loots from guest shots on other shows, royalties on records and the rewards for appearances at state fairs and rodeos.

One of the trade papers recently headlined a story about a general cutback in top prices paid guest-stars in TV series. It appears the supply of available actors exceeds the demand.

Take-home pay of most stars is almost impossible to estimate. Most of them operate amid a welter of companies and corporations supervised by tax lawyers. It is known, however, that one star of a series that was canceled after a short run still managed to total an income well over $150,000 in the period.

It was recently estimated by a trade paper that a number of big TV personalities, including Sullivan, Lucille Ball, Garry Moore and Bob Hope actually hid close to the million-dollar mark most years.
